On Justice Mathias Risse, 2020-09-10 Though much attention has been paid to different principles of justice far less has been done reflecting on what the larger concern behind the notion is In this work Mathias Risse proposes that the perennial quest for justice is about ensuring that each individual has an appropriate place in what our uniquely human capacities permit us to build produce and maintain and is appropriately respected for the capacity to hold such a place to begin with Risse begins by investigating the role of political philosophers and exploring how to think about the global context where philosophical inquiry occurs Next he offers a quasi historical narrative about how the notion of distributive justice identifies a genuinely human concern that arises independently of cultural context and has developed into the one we should adopt now Finally he investigates the core terms of this view including stringency moral value ground and duties of justice

African Metaphysics, Epistemology and a New Logic Jonathan O. Chimakonam, L. Uchenna Ogbonnaya, 2021-05-06 This book focuses on African metaphysics and epistemology and is an exercise in decoloniality The authors describe their approach to decoloniality as an intellectual repudiation of coloniality using the method of conversational thinking grounded in Ezumezu logic Focusing specifically on both African metaphysics and African epistemology the authors put forward theories formulated to stimulate fresh debates and extend the frontiers of learning in the field They emphasize that this book is not a project in comparative philosophy nor is it geared towards making Africa ns the object subjects of philosophy Rather the book highlights and discusses philosophical insights that have been produced from the African perspective which the authors argue must be further developed in order to achieve decoloniality in the field of philosophy more broadly Atuolu Omalu Jonathan O. Chimakonam,2014-12-15 The story of African philosophy is surrounded by controversy Decades after the great debate over its mere existence many vital questions have been left unanswered From examining the origins of African philosophy to addressing fundamental issues in ontology epistemology ethics and political thought this collection of essays brings fresh insight to questions both old and new First time readers and seasoned scholars alike will find this book to be an essential resource in African thought At l mal gives shape and direction to a hitherto formless discipline and heralds an exciting future for African philosophy Politics of African Anticolonial

Archive Shiera S. el-Malik,Isaac A. Kamola,2017-03-03 African political writing of the mid 20th century seeks to critically engage with questions of identity history and the state for the purpose of national and human liberation This volume collects an array of essays that reflect on anticolonialism in Africa broadly defined Each contribution connects the historical period with the anticolonial present through a critical examination of what constitutes the anticolonial archive The volume considers archive in a Derridean sense as always in the process of being constructed such that the assessment of the African anticolonial archive is one that involves a contemporary process of curating The essays in this volume as well as the volume itself enact different ways of curating material from this period The project reflects an approach to documents arguments and materials that can be considered international relations and world politics but in ways that that intentionally leaves them unhinged from these disciplinary meanings While we examine many of the same questions that have been asked within area studies African studies and International Relations we do so through an alternative archive In doing so we challenge the assumption that Africa is solely the domain of policy makers and area studies and African peoples as the objects of data

Africa after Modernism Michael Janis,2013-05-13 Africa after Modernism traces shifts in perspectives on African culture arts and philosophy from the conflict with European modernist interventions in the climate of colonialist aggression to present identitarian positions in the climate of globalism multiculturalism and mass media By focusing on what may be called deconstructive moments in twentieth century Africanist thought on intellectual landmarks revolutionary ideas crises of consciousness literary and philosophical debates this study looks at African modernity and modernism from critical postcolonial perspectives An effort to sketch contemporary frameworks of global intersubjective relations reflecting African cultures and concerns must resist taking modernism as a term of African periodization or master narrative but as a constellation of discursive and subjective forms that obtains upon the present moment in African literature philosophy and cultural history Africa after Modernism argues for a philosophical consciousness and pan African multiculturalist ethos that operate after the deconstruction of Eurocentrism beyond self other paradigms of exoticism or West Africa political ideologies in dialogue with postcolonial approaches to cultural reciprocity
