Contrasts And Effect Sizes In Behavioral Research A Correlational Approach:

Contrasts and Effect Sizes in Behavioral Research Robert Rosenthal, Ralph L. Rosnow, Donald B. Rubin, 2000 Contrasts are statistical procedures for asking focused questions of data Compared to diffuse or omnibus questions focused questions are characterized by greater conceptual clarity and greater statistical power when examining those focused questions If an effect truly exists we are more likely to discover it and to believe it to be real when asking focused questions rather than omnibus ones Researchers teachers of research methods and graduate students will be familiar with the principles and procedures of contrast analysis but will also be introduced to a series of newly developed concepts measures and indices that permit a wider and more useful application of contrast analysis This volume takes on this new approach by introducing a family of correlational effect size estimates The Essential Guide to Effect Sizes Paul D.
