Founding Fathers: Atheists? Deists? Are You Sure? Ray Strobo, 2017-08-31 What's this book about? It's about TRUTH. According to the Internet and the media, the Founding Fathers were deists and atheists. That is NOT TRUE. The Historical Record is clear: The Signers of the Declaration of Independence, an exemplar of the Founding Fathers, were for the most part men of religious faith. The reader is directed to hundreds of historical references, many accessible online, which tell us the TRUTH that none of the Signers of the Declaration were publicly professing atheists and only a handful of them were ever publicly categorized as deists in their day. And most of those characterizations were NOT TRUE. The author spent years researching this subject and gathering data about the Signers from biographies, wills, magazine articles, newspaper articles, personal correspondence, speeches, legislation, first-hand testimonials, obituaries, eulogies, tombstone engravings, and character studies. The overall conclusion from these sources is inescapable: Religion played a significant role in the private and public lives of most of these patriots. The religion of their day in the British North American colonies was Christianity. Meet these Signers for yourself: all 56 of them. See them as real people, ordinary men in many cases called on to do extraordinary things in the face of overwhelming odds. Hear them give credit to the interposition of God as they overcame those odds. See TRUTH through their eyes and through the eyes of people who knew them or researched them. From its very beginning in June 1842, the Protestant Mission in Gabon included men and women of African descent: African Americans, Americo-Liberians, and West Africans, all teachers and advanced students from the Cape Palmas Liberia Mission who transferred with the mission to its new location on the Gaboon estuary. All came voluntarily and wholeheartedly. They served as teachers, evangelists, preachers, and printers, building the early foundation of Christianity in Gabon. Many eventually returned to their homelands, but others stayed for the duration of their lives, assimilating into the local community This book celebrates the contribution of persons of African descent who served with the mission from 1834 until 1891 a time of complex and controversial race relations in America which seeped into mission relations overseas Private missionary correspondence and journals reveal the interrelationships roles and contributions of these individuals and also the underlying perceptions of nationality race and gender One must grieve the injustices evident in the stories yet marvel at the giftedness faith determination and commitment of those who served often with no official recognition I introduce you to Mr B V R James Lavinia Sneed Charity Sneed Menkel Mary Harding and others may their stories inspire you 2010Boston: The Changing Contours of World Mission and Christianity Todd M. Myers, 2012-01-09 In November 2010 three hundred faculty students and others interested in Christian mission gathered in Boston to consider how the world the global church and Christian missions have changed since the World Missionary Conference in Edinburgh in 1910 and to reflect on the three previous centennial conferences Tokyo 2010 in May Edinburgh 2010 in June and Cape Town 2010 in October Participants at 2010Boston were not delegates from churches and mission agencies but were students and scholars of various aspects of world Christianity representing the Anglican Episcopal Evangelical mainline Protestant Orthodox and Roman Catholic traditions This conference volume consists of nine keynote messages five student presentations three reports from the other conferences and additional materials from or about 2010Boston The keynote messages address the history of mission especially in and from Boston and the current global context for mission and suggest modes for future Christian engagement with the world and one another Student papers address such conference themes as unity in mission mission and postcolonialism and discipleship in context The closing chapter surveys the conference's eight themes and summarizes the outcomes of the 2010Boston process Reference

Becker, 2015-03-11 Most Americans have little understanding of the relationship between religion and nationalism in the Middle East They assume that the two are rooted fundamentally in regional history not in the history of contact with the broader world However as Adam H Becker shows in this book

Americans through their missionaries had a strong hand in the development of a national and modern religious identity among one of the Middle East's most intriguing and little known groups the modern Assyrians Detailing the history of the Assyrian Christian minority and the powerful influence American missionaries had on them he unveils the underlying connection between modern global contact and the retrieval of an ancient identity American evangelicals arrived in Iran in the 1830s Becker examines how these missionaries working with the Nestorian Church of the East an Aramaic speaking Christian community in the borderlands between Qajar Iran and the Ottoman Empire catalyzed over the span of sixty years a new national identity Instructed at missionary schools in both Protestant piety and Western science this indigenous group eventually used its newfound scriptural and archaeological knowledge to link itself to the history of the ancient Assyrians which in time led to demands for national autonomy Exploring the unintended results of this American attempt to reform the Orient Becker paints a larger picture of religion nationalism and ethnic identity in the modern era Catalogue of the Foreign Mission Library of the Divinity School of Yale University, New Haven, Conn Yale University.
