

Assignment Booklet 3A
Career And Life Management: Module 3
Section 1 Assignment Booklet 3A

This Assignment Booklet is worth 100 marks out of a total of 200 marks for the assignments in Module 3. The value of each question is stated by each question

Read all parts of your assignment carefully and record your answers in the appropriate places. When completing assignments electronically, make sure all your answers are in BLUE FONT, to help the marker identify your responses. If you have difficulty with an assignment, go back to your Student Module Booklet and review the appropriate lesson. Be sure to proofread your answers carefully before submitting your Assignment Booklet.

You can use a computer and word-processing program for many of these assignments. If you use a computer, be sure to attach a printed copy that has been proofread and is readable. Include your name, course name and assignment number on each page.

Section 1 Assignment: knowing yourself for the World of Work

In Section 1 of this module, you completed self-assessments to help you make career and life choices.

In Lessons 1, 2, and 3 of this section, you explored and assessed your abilities, competencies, skills, strengths, interests, and values. In the questions that follow, you will use what you have identified about yourself in these areas to develop a personal profile. The questions will guide you through the creation of a personal profile, which you can include in your career portfolio. /21

1. Begin organizing your personal profile by completing the following tasks. Collect information you have recorded about yourself—evidence (certificates, letters, awards,) samples, inventories—for the areas indicated in the chart that follows.

Use the chart as a summary page of your collections. In the first column indicate the items you have collected to represent each area. Next explain why the items are important. Then assess what you have learned about yourself from these items. An example of the kind of items you can include in a collection is provided for you. Find at least one item for each area.
