Cataloging And Classification An Introduction Second Edition:

Cataloging and Classification Lois Mai Chan, Athena Salaba, 2015-12-14 The fourth edition of the late Lois Mai Chan's classic Cataloging and Classification covers the analysis and representation of methods used in describing, organizing, and providing access to resources made available in or through libraries. Since the last edition published in 2007, there have been dramatic changes in cataloging systems from the Library of Congress. The most notable being the shift from AACR2 to Resource Description and Access (RDA) as the new standard developed by the Library of Congress. With the help of the coauthor Athena Salaba, this text is modified throughout to conform to the new standard. Retaining the overall outline of the previous edition, this text presents the essence of library cataloging and classification in terms of three basic functions: descriptive cataloging, subject access, and classification. Within this framework, all chapters have been rewritten to incorporate the changes that have occurred during the interval between the third and fourth editions. In each part, the historical development and underlying principles of the retrieval mechanism at issue are treated first because these are considered essential to an understanding of cataloging and classification. Discussion and examples of provisions in the standards and tools are then presented in order to illustrate the operations covered in each chapter. Divided into five parts: a general overview, record production and structure, encoding formats and metadata records, RDA subject access and controlled vocabularies, and the organization of library resources, each part of the book begins with a list of the standards and tools used in the preparation and processing of that part of the cataloging record, followed by suggested background readings selected to help the reader gain an overview of the subject to be presented. This book is the standard text for the teaching and understanding of cataloging and classification. Cataloging and Classification Lois Mai Chan, Theodora Hodges, 2007 Cataloging and Classification Third Edition is a text for beginning students and a tool for practicing cataloging personnel. All chapters have been rewritten in this latest edition to incorporate recent developments, particularly the tremendous impact metadata and the Web have had on cataloging and classification. Museum Librarianship, 2d ed. Esther Green Bierbaum, 2000-09-15 In this second edition to Museum Librarianship, the author offers guidance in planning and providing information services in a museum, beginning or revitalizing the library collection, development and the bibliographic process, technical services, administration, space and equipment requirements, fundamental services, extended information services, and the information partnership between museums and their libraries. The Internet and other electronic resources are fully covered. The focus of this new edition has shifted slightly from mainly dealing with the start-up aspects to an emphasis on the goals of library and information services in a museum and the processes through which such services can be achieved. The author's underlying goal is to help enhance and enrich the encounter of the museum goer with enduring objects in a time when we all seem to be assailed on every side by random noise and flickering image. Education for Cataloging and the Organization of Information Janet Swan Hill, 2014-04-23 What does the future hold for cataloging education? Written by some of the best known authors and most innovative thinkers in the field including Michael Gorman Sheila S Intner and Jerry D Saye this comprehensive collection examines education for students and working librarians in cataloging and bibliographic control emphasizing history context the state of the art at present and suggested future directions A liberal dose of visual aids charts tables etc makes accessing the information quick and easy From the editor The education of catalogers has swung pendulum like from on the job training to graduate education and back again The place of cataloging in the library school curriculum has swung from one of near pre eminence to one of near extinction and has begun to swing back again The durability of education for cataloging has swung from In getting your degree you will learn everything you need to know in your career to You will have to engage in continuing education throughout your career beginning virtually as soon as you have your degree Making informed decisions about how and how much cataloging education is to be provided is full of pitfalls some of which the profession has fallen into already What is needed now is a reconsideration of how education for cataloging and bibliographic control is provided Education for Cataloging and the Organization of Information Pitfalls and the Pendulum addresses four main areas the ways professionals perceive the place nature and necessity of cataloging education the professional demographic and academic context within which cataloging education is provided education regarding special types of materials and special aspects of cataloging and alternatives to traditional modes of education for cataloging including distance education online mentoring Web based instruction continuing education training for and via cooperative projects the role of the community of catalogers in the continuing education of those who provide intellectual access to the world of information and much more

Manheimer's Cataloging and Classification, Revised and Expanded Jerry Saye, 1999-09-09 This work has been revised and updated to include the Anglo American Cataloguing Rules 2nd ed the Dewey Decimal System Classification 21st ed and the Library of Congress Classification Schedules The text details the essential elements of the International Standard Bibliographic Description introduces the associated OCLC MARC specifications and more The downloadable resources give more than 500 PowerPoint slides and graphics identical to the text in addition to scans of the title page and title page verso and other illustrations that support examples from Anglo American Cataloguing Rules 2nd ed

The Organization of Information Daniel N. Joudrey, Arlene G. Taylor, 2017-11-27 This fourth edition provides an updated look at information organization featuring coverage of the Semantic Web linked data and EAC CPF new metadata models such as IFLA LRM and RiC and new perspectives on RDA and its implementation This latest edition of The Organization of Information is a key resource for anyone in the beginning stages of their LIS career as well as longstanding professionals and paraprofessionals seeking accurate clear and up to date guidance on information organization activities across the discipline The book begins with a historical look at information organization methods covering libraries archives museums and online settings It then addresses the types of retrieval tools used throughout the discipline catalogs finding aids indexes bibliographies and search engines before describing the functionality of systems explaining the basic principles of system design and defining how they affect information organization The principles and functionality of metadata is next with coverage of the types functions tools and models particularly FRBR IFLA LRM RDF and how encoding works for use and sharing for example MARC XML schemas and linked data approaches The latter portion of the resource describes specific activities related to the creation of metadata for resources These chapters offer an overview of the major issues challenges and standards used in the information professions addressing topics such as resource description including standards found in RDA DACS and CCO access points authority control subject analysis controlled vocabularies notably LCSH MeSH Sears and AAT and categorization systems such as DDC and LCC

Organizing Library Collections Gretchen L. Hoffman, 2019-08-05 Libraries organize their collections to help library users find what they need Organizing library collections may seem like a straightforward and streamlined process but it can be quite complex and there is a large body of theory and practice that shape and support this work Learning about the organization of library collections can be challenging Libraries have a long history of organizing their collections there are many principles models standards and tools used to organize collections and theory and practice are changing constantly Written for beginning library science students Organizing Library Collections Theory and Practice introduces the theory and practice of organizing library collections in a clear straightforward and understandable way It explains why and how libraries organize their collections and how theory and practice work together to help library users It introduces basic cataloging and metadata theory describes and evaluates the major cataloging and metadata standards and tools used to organize library collections and explains in general how all libraries organize their collections in practice Yet this book not only introduces theory and practice in general it introduces students to a wide range of topics involved in organizing library collections This book explores how academic public school and special libraries typically organize their collections and why It also discusses standardization and explains how cataloging and metadata standards and policies are developed Ethical issues also are explored and ethical decision making is addressed In addition several discussion questions and class activities reinforce concepts introduced in each chapter Students should walk away from this book understanding why and how libraries organize their collections
