Irish Theatre Eamonn Jordan, 2023-09-27. This book on modern and contemporary Irish theatre traces how social, cultural, and economic capital are circulated in order to demonstrate complex and often contradictory outlooks on equality, inequality. Individual chapters analyse property ownership and inheritance, wealth acquisition, employment conditions, educational access, intercultural encounters, sexual intimacy and violation, and acts of resistance, protest, and solidarity. This book addresses complex intergenerational, intercultural, racial, sectarian, ethnic, gender, and inter- and intraclass dynamics from the perspective of ranked, objectifying, exploitative, and coercive relationships but also in terms of commonalities, complicities, reciprocations, and retaliations. Notable are the significances of wealth, precarity, and shaming, the consequences of anti-materialistic dramaturgical leanings, the pathologising of success, the fraught nature of solidarity, and the problematics of merit, divisive partitioning, and muddled alliances. Ultimately, the book wonders about how Irish theatre distinguishes between tolerable and intolerable inequalities that are culturally and socially but principally economically derived.
