Desi Words Speak Of The Past Indo Aryans In The Ancient Near East:

Desi Words Speak of the Past Liny Srinivasan, 2011-11-22 Africa in the Bengali Imagination Mahruba T.

Mowtushi, 2024-10-02 This book examines textual representations of Africa in the Indian imagination from 1928 to 1973. It critically analyses Bengali literature during this period, their imitation of colonial racial prejudices and how it allowed Bengalis to fashion their identity. It analyses the development of Africa as an idea and historical reality through the writings of five Bengali writers including the Bengali novelist Bibhutibhushan Bandyopadhyay, the children's author Hemendra Kumar Roy, the poet and philosopher Rabindranath Tagore, the playwright Ganesh Bagchi, and the surrealist poet and founding editor of Transition magazine, Rajat Neogy. The book shows how these writers engage with the idea of Africa and their influence in the construction of the Bengali cultural identity during the freedom struggle, the Partition of Bengal in 1947, and the creation of Bangladesh in 1971. The book offers readers a glimpse of the exotic imaginary locales of Africa while offering an in-depth look into the interconnected histories, cartographic routes, and cultural exchange between India and Africa. A first of its kind, this book will be an excellent read for students and scholars of literature, comparative literature, history, cultural studies, postcolonial studies, South Asian studies, African studies, and diaspora studies. Crushing the Categories

(Vaidalyaprakarana) Nagarjuna, 2018-09-25 A rare glimpse of the sophisticated philosophical exchange between Buddhist and non-Buddhist schools at an early stage. The Vaidalyaprakarana provides a rare glimpse of the sophisticated philosophical exchange between Buddhist and non-Buddhist schools at an early stage and will be of interest to scholars of Buddhist thought, classical Indian Philosophy, and the history of Asian thought. Belonging to a set of Nagarjuna's philosophical works known as the yukti corpus, the Vaidalyaprakarana is noteworthy for its close engagement with the Hindu philosophers. It refutes the sixteen categories of the Nyaya school, which formed the logical and epistemological framework for many of the debates between Buddhist and Hindu philosophers. The Sanskrit original of the Vaidalyaprakarana is long lost; the author translates the text from Tibetan, giving it an extensive analytical commentary. The aim is twofold: to investigate the interaction of the founder of the Madhyamika school with this influential school of Hindu thought and to make sense of how Nagarjuna's arguments that refute the Naiyayika categories are essential to the Madhyamika path in general. Mapping Place Names of India Anu Kapur, 2019-03-01 This book is the first of its kind to chart the terrain of contemporary India's many place names. It explores different place connections, investigates how places are named and renamed, and looks at the forces that are remaking the future place name map of India. Lucid and accessible, this book explores the bonds between names, places, and people through a unique amalgamation of toponymy, history, mythology, and political studies within a geographical expression. This volume addresses questions on the status and value of place names, their interpretation, and classification. It brings to the fore the connections between place names and the cultural, geographical, and historical significations they are associated with. This will be an essential read for scholars and researchers of geography, law, politics, history, and sociology, and will also be of interest to policy makers administrators and the common reader interested in India
