day writing Workshop five: Has Routines The mini-lesson

materials needed:
Chart/Writing paper
Our Writers'
Workshop Chart

mini-lesson:

"You have been working so hard during our writing time. Today I want to teach you that we all have a job to do during writing time. This time, when we are all together on the carpet, is called the mini-lesson. It is really quick and it is when I want to teach you something about writing." Discuss with the students what you expect from them during the mini-lesson phase of Writers' Workshop. (ex: eyes on the teacher, listening ears, criss-cross applesauce, etc.) Then, you will explain what you will be doing during this time. Create an "Our Writers' Workshop" chart with the class. Today you will just work on filling in the mini-lesson section.

Try It Out
Share Time

TRY IT OUT:

"Now it is your turn to write. Today I want you to keep working your writing stamina (make a muscle with your arms). Does it have to be perfect? No, just do your best. Let's see if we can work hard for 8 minutes" (or just add 1 minute to yesterday's writing workshop). As you walk around the room continue to encourage students to tell their story. Guide them beyond just naming the pictures. Praise those who are showing strong writing stamina.

PROCEDURE CHECK:

"Writers work on their writing stamina by working the whole time." At the end of the workshop chart their stamina so that they can see how long they were able to write.

WRAP-UP:

Select 2-3 students to share their writing in front of the class. These should be students who are able to tell their story. The audience's job is to listen quietly. The teacher will model "Noticings" and "Questions".

Educational Reform Amanda Datnow,Lea Hubbard,Hugh Mehan,2005-11-02 In an effort to improve student achievement thousands of US schools have adopted school reform models devised externally by universities and other organizations Such models have been successful in improving individual schools or groups of schools but what happens when educational reform attempts to extend from one school to many Through qualitative data from several studies this book explores what happens when school reform goes to scale Topics covered include why and how schools are adopting reforms the influence of the local context and wider constraints on the implementation of reform teachers and principals as change agents in schools the evolution of reform design teams the implementation sustainability and expiration of reform and its impact on educational change Each chapter concludes with guidelines for policy and practice This book will be of interest to educational leaders and staff developers educational researchers and policy makers in the US and internationally Voices from the Classroom Brian Hand, Lori Norton-Meier, 2011-10-25 There is much attention currently being given to argument based inquiry in national and state curriculum documents Students are being required to be able to generate and evaluate science knowledge and to think critically and judge the value of evidence and explanations The intent of the book is to provide a rich and broad view of the impact of argument based inquiry in the elementary classrooms from the perspective of the teacher All the teachers and professional development authors were engaged in promoting and using argument based inquiry as the approach to teaching science They were implementing the Science Writing Heuristic SWH approach as the argument based approach for classroom practice As researchers we constantly work to present our views of these experiences with the voice of the teachers only being relayed through the perspective of the researcher The intent of this book is to provide an opportunity for us as a community to listen to what the teachers are telling us Importantly as demands are being placed on classroom experiences that provide opportunities for students to pose questions make claims and provide evidence that is to think critically and reason like scientists we need to understand what this looks like from the perspective of the teacher This book brings together a range of elementary teachers from kindergarten through to year 6 who have used the Science Writing Heuristic approach to teach argument based inquiry These teachers have all gone through professional development programs and successfully implemented the approach at a high level Aligning and Balancing the Standards-Based Curriculum David A. Squires, 2004-09-22 What the experts say about how the Balanced Curriculum process can tip the scales in favor of your students The work that Dr Squires has done in moving the curriculum development process onto the Web has removed some of the tedium involved in crafting curriculum making it user friendly and open to the kinds of ongoing changes that make the promise of continual renewal of curriculum a reality From the Foreword by Fenwick W English R Wendell Eaves Distinguished Professor of Educational Leadership University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill A coherent approach to curriculum instruction and assessment in the age of standards driven education It will be an excellent contribution H Lynn Erickson Author Concept Based Curriculum and Instruction I m happy with the Balanced Curriculum process my Board is happy and my students are benefiting by it Philomena T Pezzano District Superintendent Englewood Cliffs New Jersey Public Schools The book builds a bridge of confidence that will convince readers of both the ideas and of their own ability to succeed David W Champagne Professor Emeritus University of Pittsburgh A wonderful and thorough explanation of the Balanced Curriculum Michelle Barnea Educational Consultant Milburn New Jersey Aligning and Balancing the Standards
