Novels, Rhetoric, and Criticism: A Brief History of Belles Lettres and British Literary Culture, 1680 - 1900

Jack M. Downs, 2022-09-06 Developing a history of the English novel requires the inclusion of a vast range of cultural economic religious social and aesthetic influences But the role of eighteenth century English rhetorical theory in the emergence of the novel and the critical discourse surrounding that emergence has often been neglected or overlooked The influence of rhetorical theory in the development of the English novel is undeniable however and changes to rhetorical theory in Britain during the eighteenth century led to the development of a critical aesthetic discourse about the novel in Victorian England This study argues that eighteenth century belles lettres rhetorical theory played a key role in developing a horizon of expectation concerning the nature and purpose of the novel that extended well into the nineteenth century There is a connection between the emergence of the English novel eighteenth century rhetorical theory and Victorian novel criticism that has been neglected this study attempts to recover and articulate that connection Narrative Conventions and Race in the Novels of Toni Morrison Jennifer Lee Jordan Heinert, 2012-11-12 This study analyzes the relationship between race and genre in four of Toni Morrison s novels The Bluest Eye Tar Baby Jazz and Beloved Heinert argues how Morrison s novels revise conventional generic forms such as bildungsroman folktales slave narratives and the formal realism of the novel itself This study goes beyond formalist analyses to show how these revisions expose the relationship between race conventional generic forms and the dominant culture Morrison s revisions critique the conventional roles of African Americans as subjects of and in the genre of the novel and re write roles which instead privilege their subjectivity This study provides readers with new ways of understanding Morrison s novels Whereas critics often fault Morrison for breaking with traditional forms and resisting resolution in her novels this analysis show how Morrison s revisions shift the narrative truth of the novel from its representation in conventional forms to its interpretation by the readers who are responsible for constructing their own resolution or version of narrative truth These revisions expose how the dominant culture has privileged specific forms of narration in turn these forms privilege the values of the dominant culture Morrison s novels attempt to undermine this privilege and rewrite the canon of American literature A Natural History of the Romance Novel Pamela Regis, 2013-08-31 The romance novel has the strange distinction of being the most popular but least respected of literary genres While it remains consistently dominant in bookstores and on best seller lists it is also widely dismissed by the critical community Scholars have alleged that romance novels help create subservient readers who are largely women by confining heroines to stories that ignore issues other than love and marriage Pamela Regis argues that such critical studies fail to take into consideration the personal choice of readers offer any true definition of the romance novel or discuss the nature and scope of the genre Presenting the counterclaim that the romance novel does not enslave women but on the contrary is about celebrating freedom and joy Regis offers a definition that provides critics with an expanded vocabulary for discussing a genre that is both classic and contemporary sexy and entertaining Taking the stance that the popular romance novel is a work of literature with a brilliant pedigree Regis asserts that it is also a very old stable form She traces the literary history of the romance novel from canonical works such as Richardson s Pamela through Austen s Pride and Prejudice Bront s Jane Eyre and E M Hull s The Sheik and then turns to more contemporary works such as the novels of Georgette Heyer Mary Stewart Janet Dailey Jayne Ann Krentz and Nora Roberts The Technique of the Novel Thomas H. Political Fiction and the American Self John Whalen-Bridge,1998 Examining political novels that have achieved or been denied canonical status John Whalen Bridge demonstrates how Herman Melville Jack London Norman Mailer Ralph Ellison Toni Morrison and Margaret Atwood have grappled with the problem of balancing radicalism and art He shows that some books are more political than others that some political novelists are more skillful than others and that readers must allow for basic working distinctions between politics and aesthetics if we are to make useful judgments about which political novels to read and why Whalen Bridge demonstrates with clarity and power that the American political novel should not be ostracized but celebrated as a genre equal or superior to poetic and aesthetic ones Tobin Siebers author of Cold War Criticism and the Politics of Skepticism
