Cost Of Housing In Saratov City:

The Russian City in Transition Martha De Melo, Gur Ofer, 1999 Reform in 10 regional capitals along the Volga River is associated with favorable initial conditions And both reform and favorable initial conditions are associated with relatively successful economic outcomes except where access to extra resources improves outcomes or where weak government undermines success Housing and Urban Development in the USSR Gregory D. Andrusz, 1985-06-30 This study of housing and the urban environment in a socialist society sheds light on the discrepancy between plan and reality It investigates the sources and consequences of the problem and shows how the U S S R has attempted to find solutions Following a general background and overview section the book deals with the construction control and use of buildings in Soviet cities It then investigates the types of housing considered to be most appropriate for today s Russian urbanite Focusing on housing sites it shows the reality of the housing situation in the U S S R and uncovers spatial patterns of social segregation in Soviet urban development The question of high and low rise housing for workers is also discussed Andrusz shows how today s Soviet society has evolved away from certain patterns created by the architects of the Revolution New norms values and demands particularly in the visible form of a more privatized lifestyle the consumer oriented car ownership seeking nuclear family with segregated role playing have resulted in new dwelling needs The book is enriched with tables notes and references and a useful bibliography Russian Factory Women Rose L. Glickman, 1984 A Sophisticated detailed account of the lives of Russian factory women during the formative years of Russian industrial capitalism Glickman examines the interaction of class and gender that shaped the lives of women during this period of great often tumultuous social political and economic change Following women from the countryside into Russia s workshops and factories and describing their daily lives at work in the family and in society the author suggests that women s habits aspirations and expectations were scarcely altered in the transition from agrarian to industrial life Back cover Russia in the Time of Cholera John P. Davis, 2018-03-09 As the nineteenth century drew to a close and epidemics in western Europe were waning the deadly cholera vibrio continued to wreak havoc in Russia outlasting the Romanovs Scholars have since argued that cholera eventually fell prey to better sanitation and strict quarantine under the Soviets citing as evidence imperial mismanagement a backward tsarist medical system and physicians anachronistic environmental interpretations of the disease Drawing on extensive archival research and the so called material turn in historiography however John P Davis here demonstrates that Romanov era physicians environmental approach to disease was not ill grounded nor a consequence of neo liberal or populist political leanings but born of pragmatic scientific considerations The physicians confronted cholera in a broad and sophisticated way essentially laying the foundations for the system of public health that the Soviets successfully used to defeat cholera during the New Economic Policy 1922 1928 By focusing for the first time on the conclusion of the cholera epoch in Russia Davis adds an indispensable layer of nuance to the existing conception of Romanov Russia and its complicated legacy in the Soviet period

Information Bulletin, 1944 Urban Poverty, Housing and Social Change in China Ya Ping Wang, 2004-10-21 There is a close association between urban poverty and housing transitional societies Along with job security housing was the most important element of the socialist welfare system Housing privatisation has far reaching economic implications USSR

Information Bulletin, 1947 Children of Revolution Anna Louise Strong, 1926 Children of the Revolution Anna Louise Strong, 2019-11-29 Anna Louise Strong the daughter of Sydney Dix Strong was born on 24th November 1885 in Friend Nebraska Her father was a minister in the Congregational Church and was active in missionary work Strong like most people on the left welcomed the Russian Revolution In 1921 she travelled to Russia as a member of the Quaker Relief Mission In 1922 she became the Moscow correspondent of the International News Service Over the next few years Strong developed a reputation for being sympathetic to the Bolshevik government Strong published several books on Russia including The First Time in History Two Years of Russia's New Life 1925 Children of Revolution Story of the John Reed Children's Colony on the Volga 1925 New Lives for Old in Today's Russia What Has Happened to the Common Folk of the Soviet Republic 1927 How the Communists Rule Russia 1927 Workers Life in Soviet Russia 1927 and Red Villages The 5 year plan in Soviet Agriculture 1932 Migrant Resettlement in the Russian Federation Moya Flynn, 2004-08-26 This timely book offers a unique insight into the individual and collective experiences of movement and resettlement among Russian migrants returning to the Russian Federation over the period 1991-2002 Moya Flynn uses different levels of analysis local regional national and global to open up fresh perspectives on the nature of the Russian migration regime and government migration policy The book offers the first in depth examination of non governmental development in the area of migration in post Soviet Russia and provides new understandings of the experience of migration and resettlement at the individual level specifically through an exploration of understandings of home and homeland and a focus on the role of migrant networks
