Passions for Nature Rochelle Johnson, 2009 Nineteenth century Americans celebrated nature through many artistic forms including natural history writing landscape painting landscape design theory and transcendental philosophy Although we tend to associate these movements with the nation s dawning environmental consciousness Passions for Nature demonstrates that they instead alienated Americans from the physical environment even as they seemed to draw people to it Rather than see these expressions of passion for nature as initiating environmental awareness this study reveals how they contributed to a culture that remains startlingly ignorant of the details of the material world Using as a touchstone the writings of nineteenth century philanthropist Susan Fenimore Cooper the daughter of famed author James Fenimore Cooper Passions for Nature reveals that while a generalized passion for nature was intense and widespread in her era cultural attention to the real physical world was quite limited Popular artistic forms represented the natural world through specific metaphors for the American experience cultivating a national tradition of valuing nature in terms of humanity Johnson crosses disciplinary boundaries to demonstrate that anthropocentric understandings of the natural world result not only from the growing gulf between science and imagination that C P Snow located in the early twentieth century but also and surprisingly from cultural productions traditionally viewed as positive engagements with the environment By uncovering the roots of a cultural alienation from nature Passions for Nature explains how the United States came to be a nation that simultaneously reveres the natural world and yet remains dangerously distant from it Digital Transformation and Global Society Daniel A. Alexandrov, Alexander V. Boukhanovsky, Andrei V. Chugunov, Yury Kabanov, Olessia Koltsova, 2018-11-09 This two volume set CCIS 858 and CCIS 859 constitutes the refereed proceedings of the Third International Conference on Digital Transformation and Global Society DTGS 2018 held in St Petersburg Russia in May June 2018 The 75 revised full papers and the one short paper presented in the two volumes were carefully reviewed and selected from 222 submissions The papers are organized in topical sections on e polity smart governance and e participation politics and activism in the cyberspace law and regulation e city smart cities and urban planning e economy IT and new markets e society social informatics digital divides e communication discussions and perceptions on the social media e humanities arts and culture International Workshop on Internet Psychology International Workshop on Computational Linguistics Management by Ethics Richard H.
