Class Definitions Michelle M. Tokarczyk, 2008-10 How does working class status intersect with gender race sexual orientation and religion? How do working class status and other identities play out in the lives and work of individual writers? This text answers these questions by closely examining the lives and writings of three authors.

Performing Autobiography Katrina M. Powell, 2021-06-14 Performing Autobiography: Narrating a Life as Activism analyzes the rhetorical strategies employed in five authors' autobiographical texts, examining their representations of identities and the public implications of writing individual identity. Exploring the ways race class culture ethnicity gender and sexuality might affect the forms in which writers choose to write e.g. memoir fictional autobiography poetry, questions how autobiographers challenge notions of genre truth and representation. This builds on the argument that constructing identity is a Performing Autobiography performance, one that can simultaneously use and subvert traditional notions of rhetoric and genre. By examining the autobiographical texts of Zora Neale Hurston Audre Lorde Dorothy Allison Joyce Johnson and Shirley Geok-lin Lim, together the book theorizes self-representation and genres as rhetorical performances, and therefore their texts can be seen as performative autobiography transgressive archives where readers are asked to consider their own identities and act accordingly. Monstrous Mothers: Troubling Tropes Andrea O'Reilly, Abigail L. Palko, 2021-08-01 Motherhood is one of those roles that assumes an almost outsized cultural importance in the significance we force it to bear It becomes both the source of and the repository for all kinds of cultural fears Its ubiquity perhaps makes it this perfect foil After all while not everyone will become a mother everyone has a mother When we force motherhood to bear the terrors of what it means to be human we inflict trauma upon those who mother A long tradition of bad mothers thus shapes contemporary mothering practices and the way we view them including the murderous Medea of Greek mythology the power hungry Queen Gertrude of Hamlet and the emasculating mother of Freud's theories Certainly there are mother who cause harm inflict abuse act monstrously Mothers are human But mothers are also a favourite and easy scapegoat The contributors to this collection explore a multitude of interdisciplinary representations of mothers that through their very depictions of bad mothering challenge the tropes of monstrous mothering that we lean on revealing in the process why we turn to them Chapters in Monstrous Mothers: Troubling Tropes explore literary cinematic and real life monstrous mothers seeking to uncover social sources and results of these monstrosities
