Consuming Geographies Consuming Geographies:

Consuming Geographies David Bell, Gill Valentine, 1997 Food occupies a seemingly mundane position in all our lives yet the ways we think about shopping cooking and eating are intensively reflexive and food consumption as a practice impacts on our sense of place Consuming Geographies D. Bell, 1997 The Consuming Geographies of Food Hillary J.

Shaw, 2014-04-24 The consumption and distribution of food as well as its production has become a major public policy issue over the past few decades what we eat is no longer merely a private matter but carries significant externalities for wider society Its increasing significance within the public arena implies a dissonance regarding the boundaries of food where do we draw the line between food as private and food as public What are the rights of society to impinge upon individual food consumption and what conflicts will ensue when this boundary is disputed The Consuming Geographies of Food explores these multiple issues of food across different regions of the world from the consumer's perspective It uniquely explicates the factors that lead customers towards certain typologies of consumption and towards certain types of retailing offering a comprehensive review of the obesity problem the phenomenon of food deserts and the issue of exclusion from a healthy diet It then considers the effects of food on the consumer the dynamic relationship between food and people and the issue of food exclusion before concluding with possible futures for food consumption from low technology projects to high technology scenarios Based on original research into food access ethics and consumption in both developed and less developed countries this book will be of interest to students researchers and academics in the fields of geography economics hospitality health marketing nutrition and sociology Encyclopedia of Consumer Culture Dale Southerton, 2011-09-15 The Encyclopedia of Consumer Culture is the first reference work to outline the parameters of consumer culture and provide a critical scholarly resource on consumption and consumerism

Clubbing Ben Malbon, 2002-03-11 Clubbing explores the cultures and spaces of clubbing Divided into three sections Beginnings The Night Out and Reflections Clubbing includes first hand accounts of clubbing experiences framing these accounts within the relevant research and a review of clubbing in late 1990s Britain Malbon particularly focuses on the codes of social interaction among clubbers issues of gender and sexuality the effects of music the role of ecstasy clubbing as a playful act and personal interpretations of clubbing experiences Decoding

Modern Consumer Societies H. Berghoff, U. Spiekermann, 2012-01-02 Drawing on a wide range of studies of Europe the United States Asia and Africa the contributions gathered here consider how political history business history the history of science cultural history gender history intellectual history anthropology and even environmental history can help us decode modern consumer societies Consuming Gothic Lorna Piatti-Farnell, 2017-03-10 This book offers a critical analysis of the relationship between food and horror in post 1980 cinema Evaluating the place of consumption within cinematic structures Piatti Farnell analyses how seemingly ordinary foods are re evaluated in the Gothic framework of irrationality and desire The complicated and often ambiguous relationship between food and horror draws important and inescapable connections to matters of disgust hunger abjection violence as well as the sensationalisation of transgressive corporeality and monstrous pleasures By looking at food consumption within Gothic cinema the book uncovers eating as a metaphorical activity of the self where the haunting psychology of the everyday the porous boundaries of the body and the uncanny limits of consumer identity collide Aimed at scholars researchers and students of the field Consuming Gothic charts different manifestations of food and horror in film while identifying specific socio political and cultural anxieties of contemporary life Handbook of Lesbian and Gay Studies Diane Richardson, Steven Seidman, 2002-11-18 Drawing from a rich team of global contributors and carefully structured to elucidate the core issues in the field this text is organised into four sections History and theory Identity and community Institutions and Politics A Companion to Economic Geography Eric Sheppard, 2008-04-15 A Companion to Economic Geography presents students of human geography with an essential collection of original essays providing a key to understanding this important subdiscipline The contributions are written by prominent international scholars offering a wide ranging overview of the field Places economic geography in the wider context of geography Contributions from leading international scholars in the field Presents a comprehensive up to date and accessible overview of all the major themes in the field Explores key debates controversies and questions using a variety of historical and theoretical vantage points Charts the important work that has been done in recent years and looks forward to new developments in the global economy Routledge Handbook on Consumption Margit Keller, Bente Halkier, Terhi-Anna Wilska, Monica Truninger, 2017-02-10 Consumption research is burgeoning across a wide range of disciplines The Routledge Handbook on Consumption gathers experts from around the world to provide a nuanced overview of the latest scholarship in this expanding field At once ambitious and timely the volume provides an ideal map for those looking to position their work find new analytic insights and identify research gaps With an intuitive thematic structure and resolutely international outlook it engages with theory and methodology markets and businesses policies politics and the state and culture and everyday life It will be essential reading for students and scholars across the social and economic sciences
