Contextualizing Caryl Churchill's Far Away Robert Linton Dullnig, Austin College (Sherman, Tex.). Department of Communication Studies, 2008

Making the Stage Ann C. Hall, 2020-11-30 MAKING THE STAGE is a collection of essays that examines the role of theatre drama and performance in contemporary culture a culture that is growing increasingly technological and isolated seemingly at odds with the very nature of theatre a collaborative and sometimes very primitive art form Through the course of these essays it is clear that theatre not only survives some of the challenges of the day but even defines discussions particularly political ones which are prohibited by an increasingly manipulated media The essays from a diverse group of theatre scholars examine the mechanics of theatre from space to sound to the use of technology the role of women in creating theatre the relationship between theatre and literary art forms the politics of theatre science and theatre and the role of performance art Through them all it is clear that theatre drama and performance continue to speak in significant ways

Rethinking the Theatre of the Absurd Carl Lavery, Clare Finburgh Delijani, 2015-11-05 Rethinking the Theatre of the Absurd is an innovative collection of essays written by leading scholars in the fields of theatre performance and eco criticism which reconfigures absurdist theatre through the optics of ecology and environment As well as offering strikingly new interpretations of the work of canonical playwrights such as Beckett Genet Ionesco Adamov Albee Kafka Pinter Shepard and Churchill the book playfully mimics the structure of Martin Esslin's classic text The Theatre of the Absurd which is commonly recognised as one of the most important scholarly publications of the 20th century By reading absurdist drama for the first time as an emergent form of ecological theatre Rethinking the Theatre of the Absurd interrogates afresh the very meaning of absurdism for 21st century audiences while at the same time making a significant contribution to the development of theatre and performance studies as a whole The collection s interdisciplinary approach accessibility and ecological focus will appeal to students and academics in a number of different fields including theatre performance English French geography and philosophy It will also have a major impact on the new cross disciplinary paradigm of eco criticism (Syn)aesthetics J. Machon,2009-04-28 A timely book that identifies the practice of syn aesthetics in artistic style and audience response which helps to articulate the power of experiential practice in the arts This exciting new approach includes interviews with leading practitioners in of theatre dance site specific work live art and technological performance practice Playing for Time Geraldine Cousin,2013-03-31 Playing for time explores connections between theatre time the historical moment and fictional time Geraldine Cousin persuasively argues that a crucial characteristic of contemporary British theatre is its preoccupation with instability and danger and traces images of catastrophe and loss in a wide range of recent plays and productions The diversity of the texts that are examined is a major strength of the book In addition to plays by contemporary dramatists Cousin analyses staged adaptations of novels and productions of plays by Euripides Strindberg and Priestley A key focus is Stephen Daldry s award winning revival of Priestley s An Inspector Calls which is discussed in relation both to other Priestley time plays and to Caryl Churchill s apocalyptic Far Away Lost children are a recurring motif Bryony Lavery s Frozen for example is explored in the context of the Soham murders which took place while the play was in production at the National Theatre whilst three virtually simultaneous productions of Euripides Hecuba are interpreted with regard to the Beslan massacre of schoolchildren
