DIE BEKENNTNISSCHRIFTEN DER EVANGELISCH-LUTHERISCHEN KIRCHE : HERAUSGEGEBEN IM GEDENKJAHR DER AUGSBURGISCHEN KONFESSION 1930 Vereinigte Evangelisch-Lutherische Kirche Deutschlands, 1967

Luther in English Michael S. Whiting, 2010-06-01 Recent studies have increasingly downplayed and in a few cases even wholly denied the influence of Martin Luther's theology of Law and Gospel on early English evangelicals such as William Tyndale. The impact of a late medieval Augustinian renaissance, Erasmian Humanism, the Reformed tradition and Lollardy have all but eclipsed the more central role once attributed to Luther. Whiting reexamines these claims with a thorough reevaluation of Luther's theology of Law and Gospel in its historical context spanning twenty-five years, something entirely lacking in all previous studies. Based on extensive research in the primary sources with acute attention to the larger historical narrative and in dialogue with secondary scholarship, Whiting argues that scholars have often oversimplified Luther's theology of Law and Gospel and have thus wrongly diminished his very significant, even principal, influence upon the first generation of evangelicals, William Tyndale, John Frith, and Robert Barnes, during the English Reformation of the 1520s and 30s.

Preparing for Death, Remembering the Dead Tarald Rasmussen, Jon Øygarden Flæten, 2015-04-22 Death and dying were not in the main focus of the denominational conflicts of the 16th century. However, pious literature covered these topics again and again, not only before the Reformation but after it as well. Here, certain denominational differences are clearly visible. Partly, these differences consist in the use of genres. For example, funeral sermons are often used among Lutherans, while they are much rarer in the Reformed tradition. Similar differences can be observed concerning epitaphs. In Roman Catholic areas, funeral sermons and epitaphs are common in the 16th century too, but their religious function is often different from the one in Lutheranism. Beyond such interdenominational differences, there are also interesting continuities and connections, which the contributors of the volume analyze. For example, there is a certain continuity between 16th-century Lutheran funeral sermons and the late medieval tradition of ars moriendi. The volume contains papers presented at the Second RefoRC Conference in Oslo in 2012 and is characterized by a multiconfessional and multidisciplinary approach, with contributions from Church History, Art History, Archaeology, History of Literature, and Cultural History. Within a field of research dominated by specialized contributions on ars moriendi traditions or on specific traditions of funeral monuments and funeral sermons, the broad approach of this volume may further stimulate comparative and cross-confessional reflection.

Celebrating the Reformation Mark D

Thompson,2017-09-21 Too often the Reformers and their doctrines have been caricatured misrepresented or misappropriated in the service of agendas they would never have recognized let alone endorsed Happily there has been a great deal of fine scholarship in recent years that has exploded some of these myths but it has not always been accessible to non specialists The intention of Celebrating the Reformation is that Christians today will find new cause to rejoice in what God did in the sixteenth century through weak and fallible men and women These people sought in their own context to submit themselves to the word of God and lead his people in a godly and faithful response to the gospel of grace Three sections deal with the chief Reformers key doctrines and the Reformation in retrospect Each contribution seeks to connect its subject to the present making clear its relevance for today The Reformation is not a dead movement but a living legacy that can still capture the imagination and encourage men and women in their own Christian discipleship The contributors are Andrew Bain Colin R Bale Rhys S Bezzant Gerald Bray Martin Foord David A H hne Chase Kuhn Andrew Leslie Edward Loane John McClean Joe Mock Michael J Ovey Tim Patrick Mark D Thompson Stephen Tong Jane Tooher and Dean Zweck Humanity in God's
