Architecture Nicola Coldstream, 2002 Medieval architecture comprises much more than the traditional image of Gothic cathedrals and the castles of chivalry A great variety of buildings synagogues halls and barns testify to the diverse communities and interests in western Europe in the centuries between 1150 and 1550 This book looks at their architecture from an entirely fresh perspective shifting the emphasis away from such areas as France towards the creativity of other regions including central Europe and Spain Treating the subject thematically Coldstream seeks out what all buildings both religious and secular have in common and how they reflect the material and spiritual concerns of the people who built and used them Furthermore the author considers how and why after four centuries of shaping the landscapes and urban patterns of Europe medieval styles were superseded by classicism New Approaches to Medieval Architecture Robert Bork, William W. Clark, Abby McGehee, 2016-12-05 This collection of essays presents the exciting and innovative work being done in the field of medieval architectural history by scholars affiliated with AVISTA one of the most active sponsors of such research in the Anglo American scholarly community These studies constitute a snapshot of the range of new interpretive strategies being deployed by researchers in the reassessment of previous scholarship and identification of new modes of inquiry In recent years the study of medieval architecture has been transformed by the emergence of new critical perspectives and new technologies The contributors to this book are among those at the forefront of these developments Several of the essays present dramatic reinterpretations of canonical monuments including the Abbey of Saint Denis Beauvais Cathedral and Notre Dame in Paris Others consider broader methodological issues such as the applications of geometry workshop practice and the shaping of historical narratives Still others demonstrate how high tech scanning and visualization methods can enhance our understanding of construction methods and the behavior of buildings The publication of this collection of pioneering essays should foster further exploration by clarifying the state of research by establishing specific historical arguments and by providing models of inquiry to inspire emerging scholars Building the Great Cathedrals François Icher, 1998 This volume is a study of the people who commissioned designed and built the great cathedrals of Europe from the eleventh through the sixteenth centuries Historian François Icher has written a lively detailed account of the process by which these
