

St. Patrick Parish Lector Guidelines

General Ministry Information:

- Each lector is responsible for serving when scheduled. Courtesy and common sense dictate that the lector contact a substitute, or switch with another lector when he or she has a schedule conflict.
- Your respect for God and his people should be reflected in your appearance and attire. Please note: no T-shirts, tank tops, muscle shirts, or halters; shorts; blue jeans; apparel with signs, logos, messages or athletic shoes at any time! Jewelry and clothing that would be distracting to the assembly should not be worn. What we wear makes a statement, sometimes louder than words.
- If you cross in front of the altar, pause in front and bow, then proceed to the ambo. There is no need to bow or genuflect when you return to your pew. The tabernacle is to be revered at the beginning of Mass and at the end of Mass, but not during the celebration of Mass itself (GIRM 274). Nor is there a need to raise the lectionary before or after your reading.
- Lectors should sit near an aisle, preferably on the right side of the church.
- A Liturgical Minister may perform only one liturgical ministry at a time, at a Mass, thus if you are performing the function of lector at Mass, you may not also perform the function of an usher, or extraordinary minister of Holy Communion at the same Mass.
- The 1st lector's name on the schedule is designated as the 1st reader, the 2nd lector's name on the schedule is designated as the 2nd reader. It is the Church's desire that whenever there is more than one reading, it is better to assign the readings to different readers, if available (Lectionary for Mass 52). Thus two lectors are assigned for the Sunday Liturgies whenever possible.
- The General Instruction of the Roman Missal places emphasis on the importance of silence in the sacred liturgy. The Liturgy of the Word is to be celebrated in such a way as to promote meditation, and so any sort of haste that hinders recollection must clearly be avoided. The liturgy should include brief periods of silence, accommodated to the gathered assembly, in which, at the prompting of the Holy Spirit, the word of God may be grasped by the heart and a response through prayer may be prepared. These are observed before the Liturgy of the Word itself begins, after the first and second reading, and at the conclusion of the homily (GIRM 56). After you complete the reading, pause around five seconds before returning to your pew.
- Prayer, preparation, and practice are the keys to your being an effective proclaimer of God's Word.
 - Pray that you proclaim the Word as God wills it be proclaimed.
 - Prepare well for your reading, reviewing the context of the passage, what happens before or after this selection. All lectors will receive the Workbook for Lectors. Please use this source as your first basis for preparation. If there is an option of readings, please consult the Director of Liturgy for the correct reading. Don't assume the correct readings are listed in the bulletin.
 - Practice your reading aloud in the presence of another, who will be able to give you a critique of your proclamation. This will maximize your ability to effectively proclaim God's Word. Lectors should be preparing the readings at least a week prior. Practice making eye contact with the assembly. Remember you want to capture the attention of the assembly, so that the members of the assembly hear the Word of God and can reflect on the words being spoken to them.
