

The background of the cover is a dark, atmospheric illustration. It depicts a large, chaotic pile of old, leather-bound books. A long, ornate sword with a silver blade and a dark hilt is planted upright in the center of the book pile. In the lower-left foreground, a human skull is visible, partially buried among the books. To the right of the skull, a quill pen lies on the books. In the lower-right corner, there is a pile of what appears to be severed heads or skulls. The overall tone is dark and scholarly, with a focus on the intersection of literature and history.

Justice in Young Adult Speculative Fiction Marek C. Oziewicz, 2015-04-17 This book is the first to offer a justice focused cognitive reading of modern YA speculative fiction in its narrative and filmic forms It links the expansion of YA speculative fiction in the 20th century with the emergence of human and civil rights movements with the communitarian revolution in conceptualizations of justice and with spectacular advances in cognitive sciences as applied to the examination of narrative fiction Oziewicz argues that complex ideas such as justice are processed by the human mind as cognitive scripts that scripts when narrated take the form of multiply indexable stories and that YA speculative fiction is currently the largest conceptual testing ground in the forging of justice consciousness for the 21st century world Drawing on recent research in the cognitive and evolutionary sciences Oziewicz explains how poetic retributive restorative environmental social and global types of justice have been represented in narrative fiction from 19th century folk and fairy tales through 21st century fantasy dystopia and science fiction Suggesting that the appeal of these and other nonmimetic genres is largely predicated on the dream of justice Oziewicz theorizes new justice scripts as conceptual tools essential to help humanity survive the qualitative leap toward an environmentally conscious culturally diversified global world This book is an important contribution to studies of children s and YA speculative fiction adding a new perspective to discussions about the educational as well as social potential of nonmimetic genres It demonstrates that the justice imperative is very much alive in YA speculative fiction creating new visions of justice relevant to contemporary challenges

The Mini-Cycle Allan Weiss, 2021-05-06 While scholars have been studying the short story cycle for some time now this book discusses a form that has never before been identified and named let alone analyzed the mini cycle A mini cycle is a short story cycle made up in most cases of only two or three stories This study looks at mini cycles spanning the period from Anton Chekhov's little trilogy 1898 to the Alphinland stories in Margaret Atwood's Stone Mattress 2014 including texts by such authors as Stephen Leacock Alice Munro Robert Olen Butler and Clark Blaise Consideration is also given to marginal examples like Sherwood Anderson's Godliness A Tale in Four Parts 1919 which can be seen as one story or four distinct texts unified under one title and to what is called the exploded mini cycle one whose component stories are published with intervening stories between them rather than consecutively For each mini cycle the analysis is based on close reading of both the linking elements character imagery symbolism and so forth and the rhetorical and aesthetic effects of the mini cycle's being made up of distinct stories rather than constructed as one long narrative
