Justice, Education and the Politics of Childhood Johannes Drerup, Gunter Graf, Christoph Schickhardt, Gottfried Schweiger, 2016-03-23 This volume contributes to the ongoing interdisciplinary controversies about the moral legal and political status of children and childhood It comprises essays by scholars from different disciplinary backgrounds on diverse theoretical problems and public policy controversies that bear upon different facets of the life of children in contemporary liberal democracies The book is divided into three major parts that are each organized around a common general theme The first part Children and Childhood Autonomy Well Being and Paternalism focusses on key concepts of an ethics of childhood

The Family and Christian Ethics Petruschka Schaafsma, 2023-08-10 Explores family not as a problem but as a mystery in order to understand its current controversial character

Confidence in Life Matthew Lee Anderson, 2023-12-28 Confidence in Life offers a theologically robust evaluation of the good of procreation which emerges out of both careful interactions with contemporary analytic philosophy and a reconstructed reading of Karl Barth's doctrine of procreation While analytic moral philosophy has rarely been brought into close proximity to Barth's work the conjunction underscores the deep difficulty of accounting for procreation's value within non theological frameworks and helps clarify what is distinctive and valuable about Barth's own moral reasoning on this subject Though primarily staged as an intervention in Protestant moral theology Confidence in Life's rehabilitation of the Virgin Mary's role in Barth's thought has promise for an ecumenical retrieval of the good of procreating within the economy of redemption and its retrieval of honour as an indispensable aspect of Barth's theology will be of interest to Barth scholars and moral theologians alike

In Defense of an Evolutionary Concept of Health Mahesh Ananth, 2017-11-30 One of the most controversial contemporary debates on the concept of health is the clash between the views of naturalists and normativists Naturalists argue that although health can be valued or disvalued the concept of health is itself objective and value free In contrast normativists argue that health is a contextual and value laden concept and that there is no possibility of a value free understanding of health This debate has fueled many of the often very acrimonious disputations arising from the claims of health disease and disability activists and charities and the public policy responses to them In responding to this debate Ananth both surveys the existing literature with special focus on the work of Christopher Boorse and argues that a naturalistic concept of health drawing on evolutionary considerations associated with biological function homeostasis and species design is defensible without jettisoning norms in their entirety

Biotechnology and the Integrity of Life Michael Hauskeller, 2016-04-15 There are things that can be done and are done to life on earth whether it be human animal or plant life which even if they do not involve or produce any suffering are still considered morally wrong by a large proportion of the public Such things include changing the nature of living beings by means of genetic engineering in order to enhance their health or more likely with animals and plants their utility or impairing their ability to live autonomously or unduly instrumentalizing them Yet many scientists are puzzled about the unwillingness of the public to feel much enthusiasm about a technology that in their view promises great benefits to humans and does not seem to cause more harm to animals than other practices which most of us do not question at all In this book Michael Hauskeller takes public fears seriously and offers the idea of biological integrity as a clarifying principle which can then be analyzed to show that seemingly irrational public concerns about genetic engineering are not so irrational after all and that a philosophically sound justification of those concerns can indeed be given Social Theory and Practice ,2009
