Conecuh People Words Of Life From The Alabama Black Belt:

Conecuh People Wade Hall,2004-01-01 Author Wade Hall the first of his family to graduate from high school is a native of Bullock County In the 1970s and early 1980s during visits back to his home county he recorded the memories of some of the county s oldest inhabitants including the nineteen people who now speak from these pages What they shared were recollections of a culturally and technologically isolated time in which life was hard but honest and people persevered with stoicism and a simple unfettered religious faith Jacket Greetings from Alabama: A Pictorial History in Vintage

Postcards Wade Hall,2016-09-01 Although he was a native of Bullock County Alabama Wade Hall teacher writer poet critic interviewer folklorist and documentarian spent most of his fifty year career in Kentucky But he was never emotionally far from his home as evidenced by his passion for collecting vintage Alabama postcards In his lifetime he amassed 10 000 which he then graciously gave to the University of Alabama Libraries and Troy University in a large joint bequest that also included rare books quilts folk art letters and more These postcards date from the late 1800s to the mid 20th century and offer a fascinating and diverse picture of the state The meaning of postcards that could be purchased as a travel souvenir is largely forgotten today when cameras are commonplace But the value of Hall s stunning collection cannot be missed The some 400 cards featured in Greetings from Alabama are revealing of scenes familiar and rare From Birmingham s Vulcan to Mobile s Bellingsrath Gardens from Enterprise s boll weevil monument to Huntsville s rockets from Helen Keller s home to William Rufus King s resting place the scenes offer captivating glimpses of Alabama history

Grain and Fire Rebecca Sharpless,2022-03-17 While a luscious layer cake may exemplify the towering glory of southern baking like everything about the American South baking is far more complicated than it seems Rebecca Sharpless here weaves a brilliant chronicle vast in perspective and entertaining in detail revealing how three global food traditions Indigenous American European and African collided with and merged in the economies cultures and foodways of the South to create what we know as the southern baking tradition Recognizing that sentiments around southern baking run deep Sharpless takes delight in deflating stereotypes as she delves into the surprising realities underlying the creation and consumption of baked goods People who controlled the food supply in the South used baking to reinforce their power and make social distinctions Who used white cornmeal and who used yellow who put sugar in their cornbread and who did not had traditional meanings for southerners as did the proportions of flour fat and liquid in biscuits

By the twentieth century however the popularity of convenience foods and mixes exploded in the region as it did nationwide. Still while some regional distinctions have waned baking in the South continues to be a remarkable and remarkably tasty source of identity and entrepreneurship. Reflections of the Civil War in Southern Humor Wade Hall, 2015-02-17 As one of the organic forms of literature humor has always responded to and reflected the needs of the people at a given time and the Civil War and its aftermath were days of the South's greatest need. Historians have suggested many reasons for the South's fearless stand against overwhelming numbers and resources to use General Lee's words. In this short study author and historian Wade Hall adds one reason to the list: the humor of the Southerner as soldier and civilian during the war and the bleak days that followed it. The South arose from the ashes of humiliation and defeat smiling though sometimes through tears. The Southerner's sense of humor helped him to fight a war he believed honorable and to accept the bitter defeat which ended it. Without the escape valve of humor many a rebel would have succumbed to despair. The Southerner could smile wistfully as he looked back on a proud past and hopefully as he looked forward to an uncertain future. He smiled because he read humorists like Bill Arp who once wrote somewhat serio comically that the South was conquered but not convinced. In this study Hall has attempted to represent all the types of humor written in the South between the beginning of the Civil War and the beginning of World War I specifically 1861 and 1914 including war memoirs novels plays short stories poetry and songs. After a survey of humor written during the war Hall discusses the soldier the Negro the poor white and the folks at home in wartime as they are reflected in the postwar humor. Schools in the Landscape Edith Ziegler, 2010-10-06 This richly researched and impressively argued work is a history of public schooling in Alabama in the half century following the Civil War. It engages with depth and sophistication Alabama's social and cultural life in the period that can be characterized by the three R's: Reconstruction redemption and racism. Alabama was a mostly rural relatively poor and culturally conservative state and its schools reflected the assumptions of that society.
