Prescribing HIV Prevention Nicola Bulled, 2016-06-16 Critical health communication scholars point out that the acceptance of HIV risk prevention methods are bound inside inequitable structures of power and knowledge Nicola Bulled's in-depth ethnographic account of how these messages are selected transmitted and reacted to by young adults in the AIDS-torn population of Lesotho in southern Africa provides a crucial example of the importance of a culture-centered approach to health communication She shows the clash between traditional western perceptions of how increased knowledge will increase compliance with western ideas of prevention and mixed messages offered by local religious educational and media institutions Bullard also demonstrates how structural and geographical forces prevent the delivery and acceptance of health messages and how local communities shape their own knowledge of health disease and illness This volume will be of interest to medical anthropologists and sociologists to those in health communication and to researchers working on issues related to HIV

Communication and Social Change Thomas Tufte, 2017-04-28 How do the communication practices of governments NGOs and social movements enhance opportunities for citizen led change In this incisive book Thomas Tufte makes a call for a fundamental rethinking of what it takes to enable citizens voices participation and power in processes of social change Drawing on examples ranging from the Indignados movement in Spain to media activists in Brazil from rural community workers in Malawi to UNICEF s global outreach programmes he presents cutting edge debates about the role of media and communication in enhancing social change He offers both new and contested ideas of approaching social change from below and highlights the need for institutions governments and civil society organizations alike to be in sync with their constituencies Communication and Social Change provides essential insights to students and scholars of media and communications as well as anyone concerned with the practices and processes that lead to citizenship democracy and social justice

Public Relations Chiara Valentini, 2021-02-08 What is public relations What do public relations professionals do And what are the theoretical underpinnings that drive the discipline This handbook provides an up to date overview of one of the most contested communication professions The volume is structured to take readers on a journey to explore both the profession and the discipline of public relations It introduces key concepts models and theories as well as new theorizing efforts undertaken in recent years Bringing together scholars from various parts of the world and from very different theoretical and disciplinary traditions this handbook presents readers with a great diversity of perspectives in the field

The Handbook of Global Interventions in Communication Theory Yoshitaka Miike, Jing Yin, 2022-03-10 Moving beyond the U S Eurocentric paradigm of communication theory this handbook broadens the intellectual horizons of the discipline by highlighting underrepresented especially non Western theorists and theories and identifies key issues and challenges for future scholarship Showcasing diverse perspectives the handbook facilitates active engagement in different cultural traditions and theoretical orientations that are global in scope but local in effect It begins by exploring past efforts to diversify the field continuing on to examine theoretical concepts models and principles rooted in local cumulative wisdom It does not limit itself to the mass interpersonal communication divide but rather seeks to frame theory as global and inclusive in scope The book is intended for communication researchers and advanced students with relevance to scholars with an interest in theory within information science library science social and cross cultural psychology multicultural education social justice and social ethics international relations development studies and political science

The Rhetoric of Food Joshua Frye, Michael Bruner, 2012-10-02 This book focuses on the rhetoric of food and the power dimensions that intersect this most fundamental but increasingly popular area of ideology and practice including politics culture lifestyle identity advertising environment and economy The essays visit a rich variety of dominant discourses and material practices through a range of media channels and settings including the White House social movement rhetoric televisual programming urban gardens farmers markets domestic and international agriculture institutions and popular culture Rhetoricians address the cultural political and ecological motives and consequences of humans strategic symbolizing and attendant choice making visiting discourses and practices that have impact on our species in their producing distributing regulating marketing packaging consuming and talking about food The essays in this book are representative of dominant and marginal discourses as well as perennial issues surrounding the rhetoric of food and include macro meso and micro level analyses and case studies from international neoliberal trade policies to media and social movement discourse to small group and interactional dynamics This volume provides an excellent range and critical illumination of rhetoric s role as both instrumental and constitutive force in food representations and its symbolic and material effects Mass Communication in India, Fifth Edition Keval J.
