Combating Weapons of Mass Destruction (Joint Publication 3-40) Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, 2012-10-01 This publication Combating Weapons of Mass Destruction Joint Publication 3 40 provides fundamental principles and guidance for combating weapons of mass destruction CWMD and their means of delivery Combating weapons of mass destruction CWMD and their means of delivery is one of the greatest challenges the United States US faces Weapons of mass destruction WMD have the potential to severely disrupt and damage the United States it forces allies multinational partners and other friendly nations It is important for commanders and their staffs to keep the perspective that WMD is not an adversary but a capability an adversary can use Adversaries may use WMD as a tool to inflict casualties on civilian populations degrade the instruments of our national power or to counter US military superiority CWMD is a global mission crossing geographic areas of responsibility AORs boundaries requires an integrate and synchronized effort and requires numerous interagency and multinational partner for effective mission accomplishment Rather than a discrete specialized mission CWMD requires a continuous campaign conducted and supported by the entire United States Government CWMD actions are conducted across the range of military operations and DOD will often be acting in support of another lead agency or even supporting a multinational effort This publication has been prepared under the direction of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff It sets forth CWMD doctrine to govern the activities and performance of the Armed Forces of the United States in joint operations and provides the doctrinal basis for interagency coordination and for US military involvement in multinational operations It provides military guidance for the exercise of authority by combatant commanders and other joint force commanders JFCs and prescribes joint doctrine for operations It provides military guidance for use by the Armed Forces in preparing their appropriate plans It is not the intent of this publication to restrict the authority of the JFC from task organizing the force and executing the mission in a manner the JFC deems most appropriate to ensure unity of effort in the accomplishment of the overall objective Joint doctrine established in this publication applies to the Joint Staff commanders of combatant commands subunified commands joint task forces subordinate components of these commands and the Services The guidance in this publication is authoritative as such this doctrine will be followed except when in the judgment of the commander exceptional circumstances dictate otherwise If conflicts arise between the contents of this publication and the contents of Service publications this publication will take precedence unless the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff normally in coordination with the other members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff has provided more current and specific guidance Commanders of forces operating as part of a multinational alliance or coalition military command should follow multinational doctrine and procedures ratified by the United States For doctrine and procedures not ratified by the United States commanders should evaluate and follow the multinational command s doctrine and procedures where applicable and consistent with US law regulations and doctrine

Countering Weapons of Mass Destruction Albert J. Mauroni, 2016-10-12 The Cold War

phrase weapons of mass destruction continues to be used despite significant changes in international political cultures military concepts of operation and technology advances Today the term weapons of mass destruction WMD is used to address many things from grams of ricin and barrels of industrial chemicals to megaton nuclear weapons As a direct result of the decision to refer to all nuclear biological and chemical NBC weapons as well as biological chemical and radiological CBR hazards as WMD we have lost the ability to accurately develop assess and discuss policy concerns relating to the contemporary use of unconventional weapons on the battlefield and within the homeland This book uses a public policy framework to examine how the U S government and in particular the U S military should address the potential use of unconventional weapons in the 21st century It defines the problem identifies the policy actors and reviews policy options It discusses past policy efforts before offering a critical review of current strategies and how WMD issues are integrated into the current military Joint Operating Concepts deterrence cooperative security major combat operations irregular warfare stability and homeland security and proposes new national framework for countering WMD The aim is to answer such questions as what does counterproliferation mean and whether the U S government is adequately prepared to protect U S citizens and its armed forces from adversaries developing unconventional weapons

Doctrine for Joint Nuclear Operations, Final Coordination 2 United States. Joint Chiefs of Staff,2005 Weapons of Mass Destruction Davi M. D'Agostino,2011 This is a print on demand edition of a hard to find publication Combating weapons of mass destruction WMD and their means of delivery is one of the greatest challenges the U S faces DoD defines counter proliferation as those actions taken to defeat the threat and or use of WMD against the U S our military forces friends and allies This is a report on DoD and interagency counter proliferation activities including the extent to which 1 existing strategies for the combating WMD mission are effective and the strategic framework encompasses a common lexicon 2 DoD has developed comprehensive plans that are integrated across combating WMD mission areas and 3 counter proliferation programs and related funding support DoD plans and strategies Includes recommendations Charts and tables Department of Defense Chemical and Biological Defense Program Annual Report to Congress 2005 , Installation Commander's Handbook ,2010

Lone Wolf and Autonomous Cell Terrorism Jeffrey Kaplan,Heléne Lööw,Leena Malkki,2017-10-02 President Obama has declared that the greatest terrorist threat which America faces is attacks by lone wolf terrorists This volume expands the lone wolf rubric to include autonomous cells small groups of terrorists who cooperate but operate independently The challenge presented by lone wolves and autonomous cells unlike the threat emanating from established terrorist groups like Al Qaeda has proven intractable because of the difficulty of gathering intelligence on these actors or effectively countering their actions Lone wolves operate under the radar staging deadly attacks such as that at the Boston Marathon and the 2011 attacks in Norway This volume includes Theory and Policy Studies individual case studies and the technological impacts of chemical biological and nuclear weapons as well as the impact of social media in the process of recruitment and radicalization This book was originally published as a special issue of Terrorism Political Violence

Department of Defense Chemical, Biological, Radiological, and Nuclear Defense Program Annual Report to Congress 2004, 2004 This Annual Report of the Department of Defense DoD Chemical Biological Radiological and Nuclear CBRN Defense Program or CBRNDP provides information in response to several reporting requirements First this report is provided in accordance with 50 USC 1523 The complete reporting requirement is detailed at annex K This report is intended to assess 1 the overall readiness of the Armed Forces to fight in a chemical biological warfare environment and steps taken and planned to be taken to improve such readiness and 2 requirements for the chemical and biological warfare defense program including requirements for training detection and protective equipment for medical prophylaxis and for treatment of casualties resulting from use of chemical and biological weapons This report supplements the DoD Chemical and Biological Defense Program FY05 President s budget February 2004 which has been submitted to Congress
