Feeding the Future María del Mar Rivas Carmona,María de los Ángeles Ruiz Romero,2021-02-24

The agri food sector encompasses an extremely wide range of activities regarding the entire value chain of a product and generates a huge volume of work for translators Nevertheless the sheer proportion has yet to be truly reflected in academic studies and research This work intends to shed light on the vague and barely addressed until now delimitation of the area of activity of the multifaceted and versatile agri food translator Through a text typologisation of genres and subgenres within the margins of hybridity specialisation and register this work approaches the characteristics of scientific technical medical health legal administrative humanistic literary tourist advertising and gastronomic and culinary agri food texts and assesses the skills required from their translator

Agricultural mechanization and agricultural transformation Diao, Xinshen,Silver, Jed,Takeshima, Hiroyuki,2016-04-29 A renewed focus on agriculture s potential contribution to economic transformation in Africa has resulted in increased attention paid to agricultural mechanization African agriculture still relies predominantly on human muscle power despite anecdotal evidence on urbanization and rising rural wages in contrast to other developing regions that have experienced rapid increases in agricultural mechanization during the past few decades Past state led mechanization pushes in Africa often failed due to insufficient understanding of the nature of demand for mechanization technologies among farmers and insufficient knowledge of private sector functions This background paper reviews the factors likely to influence farmer demand for mechanization in Africa and details different existing and potential mechanization supply models Although an empirical analysis of mechanization demand and the effectiveness of supply chains is beyond the scope of this paper in part due to data limitations this paper suggests that demand for mechanization may be emerging in some parts of Africa It also suggests that private sector driven supply models are better positioned to meet this demand than direct government involvement and certain types of subsidized programs The paper then identifies possible areas for government support to complement private sector leadership in developing mechanization supply chains

Nevertheless significant further research is required to better understand the changing nature of mechanization demand in Africa and the extent and effectiveness of different supply models in meeting it Habitat Creation and Repair O. L. Gilbert, Penny Anderson, 1998 With increasing public awareness of environmental issues landscape managers and developers are being required to create substantial areas of naturalistic planting particularly in urban areas and to restore habitats degraded by building development or overuse This book provides the definitive guide to habitat creation and repair ranging from ethics theory and principles to the practical detail of designing habitats for wildlife The authors who have been working and teaching in the field for many years draw on a wealth of practical experience as well as an in depth knowledge of the existing widely scattered literature to provide an authoritative and accessible account of this rapidly developing subject From coastal and freshwater ecosystems to mountains forest and grasslands the book spans all of the major types of habitat to be found in the UK Oliver Gilbert and Penny Anderson give advice on deciding when habitat creation is the correct path to follow and then cover all steps from site survey through to the final design and actual realization of the scheme For each habitat the authors describe the options problems and solutions most likely to be encountered and give examples of good and bad habitat creation in practice drawn from the UK and other countries Habitat Creation and Repair is the first comprehensive guide to habitat creation to be published for several years It will be a key text for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate courses in ecology landscape architecture resource management and environmental science With habitat conservation creation and repair increasingly a priority amongst planners developers and policy makers this book will also be welcomed by professional ecologists environmental consultants resource managers and landscape architects Technical Manual United States.
