

Chapter 10 Study Guide Answers

1. Describe the distribution of Earth's fresh water supply

Earth's fresh water is not distributed evenly. Canada, with only 0.5% of the world's population, has 20% of the world's fresh water. China, with 19% of the world's people, has only 6.5% of the freshwater supply.

2. List the sources of freshwater, which is the most difficult to clean once contaminated Groundwater (aquifers) and surface water (lakes, rivers, streams, reservoirs, wetlands) most of this water gets here by surface runoff. (precipitation that does not gets absorbed into the ground and/or evaporates. Agricultural activities in the leading source of pollution of this water.

3. Why are plastics such a serious problem to US water system pollution?

The United States is the world's largest consumer market for bottled water. Americans drink 1,500 bottles of water every second but recycle only 38% of the 50 billion empty plastic water bottles they generate each year. This wasted plastic is worth at least $1 billion. Two million tons of single-use water bottles are dumped in landfills every year instead of being recycled. Discarded plastic water bottles take more than 1,000 years to biodegrade.

4. What process uses the most freshwater and, if improved, would result in the largest reduction in water loss. How efficient is this process?

Worldwide, people use 70% of the fresh water taken each year from rivers, lakes, and aquifers to irrigate cropland and raise livestock. In arid regions, 90% of all water is used for food production. Most irrigation systems are highly inefficient. In fact, only 40–60% of the world's irrigation water reaches any crops. Flood irrigation is the most inefficient irrigation system and is commonly used in less-developed countries.

5. What are negative and positive aspects of desalination?

Desalination — process of removing salt from seawater

Advantages:

- Provides water for parts of the world where fresh water is very scarce.

Disadvantages:

- Expensive
- Threatens marine ecosystems
- Requires addition of chemicals to water
- Disposal of salt waste pollutes water

Critical Care Study Guide Gerard J. Criner, Gilbert E. D'Alonzo, 2013-03-09 Critical care medicine is a dynamic and exciting arena where complex pathophysiologic states requiring extensive knowledge and clinical acumen are commonly found. Caring for critically ill patients requires an extensive knowledge of basic pathophysiology as well as awareness of the appropriate diagnostic tests and therapeutic interventions. Because this knowledge base crosses many different disciplines, introduction to caring for the intensive care patient while exciting may also be intimidating. This textbook is designed toward making the dynamic environment of the critical care unit understandable and the approach to the patient both logical and successful. The book contains three components: 1) description of the procedural tasks commonly performed for the critically ill patient; 2) explanation of the most common pathophysiologic states encountered; and 3) description of specific disease entities with details of their differential diagnosis, diagnostic strategy, and therapeutic plan. This book also uses several educational approaches that we have found useful in our own teaching sessions and prior textbooks. Clinical cases introduce chapters and highlight chapter segments to emphasize clinical relevancy. As an additional study aid, margin notes highlight important teaching points and facilitate easy review of chapter content. To consolidate the principles outlined in each chapter, review questions with full text explanations are provided at the end of each chapter. All these elements help reinforce the most important messages for the reader.
