Character Matters

Be Responsible

Responsibility can mean different things to different people. In general, being responsible means following through on your commitments, working hard, and being accountable for everything you say and do. Here are some tips to help you be more responsible.

1. Don't make excuses

No one is perfect, and we all make mistakes. How you respond to your mistakes makes all the difference. You can blame others or make excuses, or you can take ownership of your mistakes and do what you can to fix them. This is called being accountable, and it's key to being a more responsible person.

2. Give 100% to everything you do

When you commit to something, such as getting a better grade in a class or having a healthier diet, it's important that you do your best to make

Character Matters

Be Respectful

Being respectful includes accepting others for who they are, being tolerant of differences, and being open-minded to the thoughts and opinions of others. When we respect one another, it leads to feelings of acceptance, trust, and love. Here are some tips on how you can be a more respectful person.

1. Embrace differences

How boring would the world be if everyone looked, acted, and thought the same? Look at others' differences as an opportunity to learn and grow. For example, if you have a friend or classmate who practices a religion or observes a holiday different from your own, ask them to tell you more about it. Be open to new perspectives and experiences.

2. Be kind

Be kind to others. This includes being kind to yourself.

Character Matters

Be a Good Citizen

Being a good citizen means making the world a better place for everyone. For you, this means being a good family member, friend, and classmate, lending a helping hand to those in need, being active in your community, and doing your part to care for the environment. Here are some ways that you can be a good citizen.

1. Share your time and talents

What strengths or talents do you have that could be helpful to a family member, friend, or classmate? For example, a simple offer to help a neighbor with some yard work or household tasks can mean so much. Older neighbors will especially appreciate this act of kindness. What is one way you can help a neighbor?
