

Co-Ownership

Joint Tenancy

Co-owners are regarded as a single entity owning the whole estate.

right of survivorship
'four entities' present

JT's have no distinct or separate shares in the property. The right of survivorship happens where one joint tenant dies the remaining joint tenants will assume the rights of the interest that the deceased has left behind regardless of any will.

Possession- equal entitlement, no physical division of land or restriction on use.

Interest- Each interest must be for the same duration and of the same nature.

Time- interest should vest at the same time.

Title- acquired interest at the same time, in same way, or by adverse possession

two or more people who simultaneously enjoy the rights and responsibilities of ownership over a piece of land

Tenancy in Common

Only possession is required. Each tenant in common has a separate share of the property. The share can be disposed of during their lifetime or when they die. The shares are not physically divided so each tenant has the right to occupy all of the land. Use of the land can't be restricted by one tenant even if they own a larger share than the others.

Since 1925 co-ownership of any legal estate must be a joint tenancy.

Tenancy in Common can only exist in equity.

The Problematic Structure of Management of Co-Owned Properties in Turkish Law and Pursuance of Solutions Eylem Apaydin, 2011-01-18 This book provides a critical evaluation of the statutory framework for co ownership regulations in Turkish law and it acquaints Turkish jurists with the existence of trust of land in English law It is posited upon the argument that solutions to the problems observed in the administration and enjoyment of co owned properties in Turkish law may be overcome by the introduction of a new institution which is inspired by the trust mechanism in English law This renders the existing Turkish regulation for the management of the co owned properties outdated unreasonably complex and extremely artificial with some assumptions After successfully establishing that the Turkish system is currently inadequate to provide an efficient system this book provides the indications for a solution Being aware of the limitations of the Turkish legal system and the restricted possibility of the direct reception of trust this book examines to what extent the current institutions in Turkish law would replace the functions of trust in the context of co ownership This examination results in searching for a new system as it is concluded that any of the trust like devices in the current Turkish law could not effectively and comprehensively serve the purposes that the English trust does Therefore this book suggests that a new mechanism inspired by the English trust of land would provide the required mechanisms for an efficient managerial system for co owned properties Rather than asserting to solely focus on a comprehensive new system this book discusses the possible solutions and urges further research about the matter Hence the so called alien system trust of land and its capability to provide an alternative but efficient and productive solution to the managerial problems of the co owned properties would be made familiar with the Turkish jurists

Cases, Materials and Text on Property Law Sjef van Erp, Bram Akkermans, 2012-07-23 This casebook presents a deep comparative analysis of property law systems in Europe ie the law of immovables movables and claims offering signposts and stepping stones for the reader wishing to explore this fascinating area The subject matter is explained with careful attention given to its history foundations thought patterns underlying principles and basic concepts The casebook focuses on uncovering differences and similarities between Europe's major legal systems French German Dutch and English law are examined while Austrian and Belgian law are also touched upon The book combines excerpts from primary source materials case law and legislation and from doctrine and soft law In doing so it presents a faithful picture of the systems concerned Separate chapters deal with the various types of property rights their creation transfer and destruction with security rights such as mortgages pledges retention of title as well as with harmonising and unifying efforts at the EU and global level Through the functional approach taken by the Ius Commune Casebooks this volume clearly demonstrates that traditional comparative insights no longer hold The law of property used to be regarded as a product of historical developments and political ideology which were considered to be almost set in stone and assumed to render any substantial form of harmonisation or approximation very unlikely Even experienced comparative lawyers considered the divide between common law and civil law to be so deep that no common ground so it was thought could be found However economic integration in particular integration of financial markets and freedom of establishment has led to the integration of particular areas of property law such as mortgage law and enforceable security instruments eg retention of title This pressure towards integration has led comparative lawyers to refocus their interest from contract tort and unjustified enrichment to property law and delve beneath its surface This book reveals that today property law systems are closer to one another than previously assumed that common ground can be found and that differences can be analysed in a new light to enable comparison and further the development of property law in Europe Idaho Real Estate Dearborn Real Estate Education (Firm),2001-10-26 Dearborn s Practice and Law supplements are the premier source for current and detailed information about state real estate license laws and regulations These state specific supplements work in conjunction with any of Dearborn s best selling principles texts including Modern Real Estate Practice Real Estate Fundamentals or Mastering Real Estate Principles
