Cognitive Ecology Cognitive Ecology:

Cognitive Ecology II Reuven Dukas, John M. Ratcliffe, 2009-11-15 Merging evolutionary ecology and cognitive science cognitive ecology investigates how animal interactions with natural habitats shape cognitive systems and how constraints on nervous systems limit or bias animal behavior Research in cognitive ecology has expanded rapidly in the past decade and this second volume builds on the foundations laid out in the first published in 1998 Cognitive Ecology II integrates numerous scientific disciplines to analyze the ecology and evolution of animal cognition The contributors cover the mechanisms ecology and evolution of learning and memory including detailed analyses of bee neurobiology bird song and spatial learning They also explore decision making with mechanistic analyses of reproductive behavior in voles escape hatching by frog embryos and predation in the auditory domain of bats and eared insects Finally they consider social cognition focusing on alarm calls and the factors determining social learning strategies of corvids fish and mammals With cognitive ecology ascending to its rightful place in behavioral and evolutionary research this volume captures the promise that has been realized in the past decade and looks forward to new research prospects Cognitive Ecology Reuven Dukas, 1998-07-06 Cognitive Ecology lays the foundations for a field of study that integrates theory and data from evolutionary ecology and cognitive science to investigate how animal interactions with natural habitats shape cognitive systems and how constraints imposed on nervous systems limit or bias animal behavior Using critical literature reviews and theoretical models the contributors provide new insights and raise novel questions about the adaptive design of specific brain capacities and about optimal behavior subject to the computational capabilities of brains Cognitive Ecology Morton P. Friedman, Edward C. Carterette, 1996-02-05 Cognitive Ecology identifies the richness of input to our sensory evaluations from our cultural heritage and philosophies of aesthetics to perceptual cognition and judgment Integrating the arts humanities and sciences Cognitive Ecology investigates the relationship of perception and cognition to wider issues of how science is conducted and how the questions we ask about perception influence the answers we find Part One discusses how issues of the human mind are inseparable from the culture from which the investigations arise how mind and environment co define experience and actions and how culture otherwise influences cognitive function Part Two outlines how philosophical themes of aesthetics have guided psychological research and discuss the physical and aesthetic perception of music film and art Part Three presents an overview of how the senses interact for sensory evaluation Cognitive Ecology David C. Krakauer, 1995 Human Ecology and Cognitive Style John W. Berry, 1976 Cognitive Ecology of Pollination Lars Chittka, James D. outstanding scholars from many different fields of pollination biology integrating the work of neuroethologists and evolutionary ecologists to present a multi disciplinary approach Aimed at graduates and researchers of behavioural and pollination ecology plant evolutionary biology and neuroethology it will also be a useful source of information for anyone interested in a modern view of cognitive and sensory ecology pollination and floral evolution Cognitive Ecology of Pollination Lars Chittka,James D. Thomson,2005 Integral Ecology Sean Esbjörn-Hargens,Michael E. Zimmerman,2009
