Practical Farm Ideas Quarterly ,2004 Place Marketing and Temporality Gary Warnaby,2024-06-26 Much city marketing and branding activity is future oriented aimed at achieving a forward looking vision for places The aim of this activity is to attract visitors residents and or inward investment and focus on communicating attractive place attributes to create a differentiated spatial product that will appeal to particular target audiences In seeking to achieve this place marketing campaigns have been criticized for emphasizing generic attributes such as accessibility infrastructure and a skilled workforce which can serve to homogenize places which in reality are very different However a city s distinctive character is a consequence of its history and development over time and this book analyses the role of these temporal dimensions in place marketing and branding The book analyses how the past both material i e the historic built environment and intangible i e routines practices and the character of the populace is appropriated in order to sell the city into the future It acknowledges the inherent selectivity involved and discusses the factors influencing what is remembered from the past and equally importantly what is forgotten Adopting a range of theoretical approaches to understanding temporality in this context the book will appeal to advanced students academic researchers and reflexive place branding practitioners by introducing a temporal paradox incorporating both fixity the material and immaterial elements of the city s past and fluidity relating to the creation of the place product as a dynamic assemblage of individual elements and attributes aimed at particular target audiences
