The Cambridge Companion to Twentieth-Century British and Irish Women's Poetry Jane Dowson, 2011-03-17 This Companion provides new ways of reading a wide range of influential women's poetry Leading international scholars offer insights on a century of writers drawing out the special function of poetry and the poets use of language whether it is concerned with the relationship between verbal and visual art experimental poetics war landscape history cultural identity or confessional lyrics Collectively the chapters cover well established and less familiar poets from Edith Sitwell and Mina Loy through Stevie Smith Sylvia Plath and Elizabeth Jennings to Anne Stevenson Eavan Boland and Jo Shapcott They also include poets at the forefront of poetry trends such as Liz Lochhead Jackie Kay Patience Agbabi Caroline Bergvall Medbh McGuckian and Carol Ann Duffy With a chronology and guide to further reading this book is aimed at students and poetry enthusiasts wanting to deepen their knowledge of some of the finest modern poets The Post-colonial Studies Reader Bill Ashcroft, Gareth Griffiths, Helen Tiffin, 1995 The Post Colonial Studies Reader is the most comprehensive selection of key texts in post colonial theory and criticism yet compiled This collection covers a huge range of topics featuring nearly ninety of the discipline's most widely read works The Reader's 90 extracts are designed to introduce the major issues and debates in the field of post colonial literary studies This field itself however has become so varied that no collection of readings could encompass every voice which is now giving itself the name post colonial The editors in order to avoid a volume which is simply a critical canon have selected works representing arguments with which they do not necessarily agree but rather which above all stimulate discussion thought and further exploration Post colonial theory has occurred in all societies into which the imperial force of Europe has intruded though not always in the official form of theoretical text Like the description of any other field the term has come to mean many things but this volume hinges on one incontestable phenomenon the historical fact of colonialism and the palpable consequences to which this phenomenon gave rise The topic involves talk about experience of various kinds migration slavery suppression resistance representation difference race gender place and reaction to the European influence and about the fundamental experiences of speaking and writing by which all these come into being In compiling this reader the editors have sought to stimulate people to ask How might a genuinely post colonial literary enterprise proceed The fourteen sections include Issues and Debates Universality and Difference Textual Representation and Resistance Postmodernism and Post Colonialism Nationalism Hybridity Ethnicity and Indigeneity Feminism and Post Colonialism Language The Body and Performance History Place Education and Production and Consumption Contributors include many of the leading post colonial theorists and critics such as Franz Fanon Chinua

Achebe Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak Ngugi wa Thiong'o Homi Bhabha Derek Walcott Edward Said and Trinh T Minh-ha in addition to a number of the discourse's newer voices The Postcolonial Studies Reader will prove an authoritative compilation representing an invaluable contribution to the study of postcolonial theory and criticism The Postcolonial Studies Reader Bill Ashcroft, Gareth Griffiths, Helen Tiffin, 2006 Boasting new extracts from major works in the field as well as an impressive list of contributors this second edition of a bestselling Reader is an invaluable introduction to the most seminal texts in postcolonial theory and criticism Postcolonial Theory and the United States Amritjit Singh, Peter Schmidt, 2009-11-12 At the beginning of the twenty-first century we may be in a transnational moment increasingly aware of the ways in which local and national narratives in literature and elsewhere cannot be conceived apart from a radically new sense of shared human histories and global interdependence To think transnationally about literature history and culture requires a study of the evolution of hybrid identities within nation states and diasporic identities across national boundaries Studies addressing issues of race ethnicity and empire in US culture have provided some of the most innovative and controversial contributions to recent scholarship Postcolonial Theory and the United States Race Ethnicity and Literature represents a new chapter in the emerging dialogues about the importance of borders on a global scale This book collects nineteen essays written in the 1990s in this emergent field by both well-established and up-and-coming scholars Almost all the essays have been either especially written for this volume or revised for inclusion here These essays are accessible well-focused resources for college and university students and their teachers displaying both historical depth and theoretical finesse as they attempt close and lively readings The anthology includes more than one discussion of each literary tradition associated with major racial or ethnic communities Such a gathering of diverse complementary and often competing viewpoints provides a good introduction to the cultural differences and commonalities that comprise the United States today The volume opens with two essays by the editors first a survey of the ideas in the individual pieces and second a long essay that places current debates in US ethnicity and race studies within both the history of American studies as a whole and recent developments in postcolonial theory Postcolonial Theory and Autobiography David Huddart, 2008-04-18 Cultural theory has often been criticized for covert Eurocentric and universalist tendencies Its concepts and ideas are implicitly applicable to everyone ironing over any individuality or cultural difference Postcolonial theory has challenged these limitations of cultural theory and Postcolonial Theory and Autobiography addresses the central challenge posed by its autobiographical turn Despite the fact that autobiography is frequently dismissed for its Western masculine bias David Huddart argues for its continued relevance as a central explanatory category in understanding postcolonial theory and its relation to subjectivity Focusing on the influence of post-structuralist theory on postcolonial theory and vice versa this study suggests that autobiography constitutes a general philosophical resistance to universal concepts and theories Offering a fresh perspective on familiar critical figures like Edward W. Said and Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak by putting them in the context of readings of the work of Jacques Derrida Gilles Deleuze and Alain Badiou this book relates the theory of autobiography to expressions of new universalisms that together with postcolonial theory rethink and extend norms of experience investigation and knowledge Colonial Discourse/ Postcolonial Theory Francis Barker, Peter Hulme, Margeret Iverson, 1994 This book on post colonial theory has a wide geographic range and a breadth of historical perspectives Central to the book is a critique of the very idea of the postcolonial itself Postcolonial Theory and Psychoanalysis Mrinalini Greedharri, 2008-04-30 Psychoanalytic theory has been the critical instrument of choice for colonial critics This book examines why critics who are otherwise suspicious of Western forms of knowledge are drawn to psychoanalytic theories and whether it is possible to use such theories without reproducing the colonial discourse that also structures psychoanalytic thought Messy Beginnings Malini Johar Schueller, Edward Watts, 2003 When exploring the links between America and post colonialism scholars tend to think either in terms of contemporary multiculturalism or of imperialism since 1898 This book challenges the idea of early America s immunity from issues of imperialism
