Craigslist Personals:

An Internet for the People Jessa Lingel, 2022-06-14 How craigslist champions openness democracy and other vanishing principles of the early web Begun by Craig Newmark as an e mail to some friends about cool events happening around San Francisco craigslist is now the leading classifieds service on the planet It is also a throwback to the early internet The website has barely seen an upgrade since it launched in 1996 There are no banner ads The company doesn't profit off your data An Internet for the People explores how people use craigslist to buy and sell find work and find love and reveals why craigslist is becoming a lonely outpost in an increasingly corporatized web Drawing on interviews with craigslist insiders and ordinary users Jessa Lingel looks at the site's history and values showing how it has mostly stayed the same while the web around it has become more commercial and far less open She examines craigslist's legal history describing the company's courtroom battles over issues of freedom of expression and data privacy and explains the importance of locality in the social relationships fostered by the site More than an online garage sale job board or dating site craigslist holds vital lessons for the rest of the web It is a website that values user privacy over profits ease of use over slick design and an ethos of the early web that might just hold the key to a more open transparent and democratic internet Buy It Now Michele White, 2012-07-10 Explores the communities and social norms on eBay discussing gender race and sexuality and how stereotypes about them are reinforced by the online auction site Domestic Minor Sex Trafficking United States. Side Effects Hil Malatino, 2022-04-19

How the bad feelings of trans experience inform trans survival and flourishing Some days or weeks or months or even years being trans feels bad Yet as Hil Malatino points out there is little space for trans people to think through let alone speak of these bad feelings Negative emotions are suspect because they unsettle narratives of acceptance or reinforce virulently phobic framings of trans as inauthentic and threatening In Side Affects Malatino opens a new conversation about trans experience that acknowledges the reality of feeling fatigue envy burnout numbness and rage amid the ongoing onslaught of casual and structural transphobia in order to map the intricate emotional terrain of trans survival Trans structures of feeling are frequently coded as negative on both sides of transition Before transition narratives are framed in terms of childhood trauma and being in the wrong body Posttransition trans individuals especially trans people of color are subject to unrelenting transantagonism Yet trans individuals are discouraged from displaying or admitting to despondency or despair By moving these unloved feelings to the center of trans experience Side Affects proposes an affective trans commons that exists outside political debates about inclusion Acknowledging such powerful and elided feelings as anger and exhaustion Malatino contends is critical to motivating justice oriented advocacy and organizing and recalibrating new possibilities for survival and well being
