Creating Cohousing Building Sustainable Communities:

Creating Cohousing Charles Durrett, Kathryn McCamant, 2011-02-01 The cohousing bible by the US originators of the concept A man's home is his castle But demographic and economic changes have turned our castles into islands How can we regain the elements of the traditional village family cooperation community and a sense of belonging within the context of 21st century life Creating Cohousing Building Sustainable Communities is an in depth exploration of a uniquely rewarding type of housing which is perfect for anyone who values their independence but longs for more connection with those around them Written by the award winning team that wrote the original cohousing bible and first brought cohousing to North America this fully illustrated manual combines nuts and bolts practical considerations and design ideas with extensive case studies of dozens of diverse communities in Europe and North America Cohousing communities create unique opportunities for designing more sustainable lifestyles Whether urban suburban or rural senior or intergenerational retrofit or new the authors show how the physical structures of cohousing communities lend themselves to a more efficient use of resources and make everything from gardening to childcare to socializing easier Creating Cohousing puts the neighbor back into neighborhood and is an essential resource for anyone interested in more environmentally and socially sustainable living

Creating Community-Led and Self-Build Homes Martin Field, 2020-06-24 In Creating Community Led and Self Build Homes Martin Field explores the ways in which people and communities across the UK have been striving to create the homes and neighbourhood communities they want Giving context to contemporary practices in the UK the book examines self build housing and community led housing discussing the commonalities and distinctions between these in practice and what could be learned from other initiatives across Europe Individual methods and models of local practice are explored including cohousing cooperatives community land trusts empty homes and other intentional communities and an examination is made of what has constrained such initiatives to date and how future policies and practice might be shaped Contemporary

Co-housing in Europe Pernilla Hagbert, Henrik Gutzon Larsen, Håkan Thörn, Cathrin Wasshede, 2019-11-18 This book investigates co housing as an alternative housing form in relation to sustainable urban development Co housing is often lauded as a more sustainable way of living The primary aim of this book is to critically explore co housing in the context of wider social economic political and environmental developments This volume fills a gap in the literature by contextualising co housing and related housing forms With focus on Denmark Sweden Hamburg and Barcelona the book presents general analyses of co housing in these contexts and provides specific discussions of co housing in relation to local government urban activism family life spatial logics and socio ecology This book will be of interest to students and researchers in a broad range of social scientific fields concerned with housing urban development and sustainability as well as to planners decision makers and activists An Introduction to Community Development Rhonda Phillips, Robert Pittman, 2014-11-26 Beginning with the foundations of community development An Introduction to Community Development offers a comprehensive and practical approach to planning for communities Road tested in the authors own teaching and through the training they provide for practicing planners it enables students to begin making connections between academic study and practical know how from both private and public sector contexts An Introduction to Community Development shows how planners can utilize local economic interests and integrate finance and marketing considerations into their strategy Most importantly the book is strongly focused on outcomes encouraging students to ask what is best practice when it comes to planning for communities and how do we accurately measure the results of planning practice This newly revised and updated edition includes increased coverage of sustainability issues discussion of localism and its relation to community development quality of life community well being and public health considerations and content on local food systems Each chapter provides a range of reading materials for the student supplemented with text boxes a chapter outline keywords and reference lists and new skills based exercises at the end of each chapter to help students turn their learning into action making this the most user friendly text for community development now available Urban Eco-Communities in Australia Liam Cooper, Hans A. Baer, 2018-06-28

This book offers one of the first detailed anthropological studies of emergent ecotopianism in urban contexts Engaging directly with debates on urbanisation sustainability and utopia it presents two detailed ethnographic case studies of inner urban Australian eco communities in Adelaide and Melbourne These novel responses to the ecological crisis real social laboratories that attempt to manifest a vision of the eco city in microcosm offer substantial new insights into the concept and creation of sustainable urban communities their attempts to cultivate ways of living that are socially and ecologically nourishing and their often fraught relationship to the capitalist city beyond These studies also suggest the opportunities and limitations of moving beyond demonstration projects towards wider urban transformation as well as exposing the problems of accessibility and affordability that thwart further urban eco interventions and the ways that existing projects can exacerbate issues of gentrification and privilege in a socially polarised city Amidst the challenges of the capitalist city climate change and ecological crisis this book offers vital lessons on the potential of urban sustainability in future cities The Sustainable Urban Development Reader Stephen M. Wheeler, 2022-12-30 This thoroughly revised and updated fourth edition of The Sustainable Urban Development Reader combines classic and contemporary readings to provide a broad introduction to the topic that is accessible to general and undergraduate audiences The Reader begins by tracing the roots of the sustainable development concept in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries through classic readings It then explores dimensions of urban sustainability including land use and urban design transportation ecological planning and restoration energy and materials use economic development social and environmental justice and green architecture and building Additional sections cover tools for sustainable development sustainable development internationally visions of sustainable community and case studies from around the world The Sustainable Urban Development Reader remains unique in presenting a broad array of sustainable city readings each with a concise introduction placing it within the context of this evolving discourse Presenting an authoritative overview of the field using original sources in a highly readable format this book is a valuable resource for general readers as well as students and researchers in urban studies environmental studies the social sciences and related fields

Collaborative Happiness Catherine Kingfisher, 2021-10-15 Understudied relative to other forms of intentional community and under recognized in policy making circles urban cohousing communities situate wellbeing as simultaneously social and subjective while catering for groups of people so diverse in age Collaborative Happiness looks at two such urban cohousing communities Kankanmori in Tokyo and Quayside Village in Vancouver In expanding beyond mainstream approaches to happiness focused exclusively on the individual Quayside Village and Kankanmori provide an alternative model for how to understand and practice the good life in an increasingly urbanized world marked by crisis of both social and environmental sustainability

The Greening of Architecture Phillip James Tabb, A. Senem Deviren, 2017-03-02 Contemporary architecture and the culture it reflects dependent as it is on fossil fuels has contributed to the cause and necessity of a burgeoning green process that emerged over the past half century This text is the first to offer a comprehensive critical history and analysis of the greening of architecture through accumulative reduction of negative environmental effects caused by buildings urban designs and settlements Describing the progressive development of green architecture from 1960 to 2010 it illustrates how it is ever evolving and ameliorated through alterations in form technology materials and use and it examines different places worldwide that represent a diversity of cultural and climatic contexts The book is divided into seven chapters with an overview of the environmental issues and the nature of green architecture in response to them followed by an historic perspective of the pioneering evolution of green technology and architectural integration over the past five decades and finally providing the intransigent and culturally pervasive current examples within a wide range of geographic territories The greening of architecture is seen as an evolutionary process that is informed by significant world events climate change environmental theories movements in architecture technological innovations and seminal works in architecture and planning throughout each decade over the past fifty years This time period is bounded on one end by the awareness of environmental problems beginning in the 1960 s the influential texts by Rachel Carson E F Schumacher Buckminster Fuller and Steward Brand and the impact of the OPEC Oil Embargo of 1973 and on the other end the pervasiveness of the necessary greening of architecture that includes systemic reforms in architectural and urban design land use planning transportation agriculture and energy production found in the 2000 s The greening process moves from remediation to holistic models of architecture Geographical landscapes give a global account of the greening process where some examples are parallel and sympathetic and others are in clear contrast to one another with very individuated approaches Certain events like the Rio Summit in 1992 and Kyoto Protocol in 1997 and themes such as the Hannover Principles in 2000 provide a dynamic ideological critique as well as a formal and technical discussion of the embodied and accumulative content of greening principles in architecture

Building Urban Resilience through

Change of Use Sara J. Wilkinson, Hilde Remøy, 2018-04-30 Describes all aspects of sustainable conversion adaptation of existing buildings and provides solutions for making urban settlements resilient to climate change This comprehensive book explores the potential to change the character of cities with residential conversion of office space in order to withstand the negative effects of climate change It investigates the nature and extent of sustainable conversion in a number of global cities as well as the political economic social technological environmental and legal drivers and barriers to successful conversion The book also identifies the key lessons learned through international comparisons with cases in the UK US Australia and the Netherlands Building Urban Resilience Through Change of Use covers the benefits and aspects of sustainable conversion adaptation through the whole lifecycle from inception planning and design to procurement construction and management and operational issues It illustrates and quantifies through empirical research the changes that have been achieved or delivered in sustainable conversion adaptation The book gives an overview of all aspects of performance characteristics and the conversion adaptation of existing buildings In the end it enables planners to make more informed decisions about whether conversion adaptation is a good choice and if so which types of sustainability measures are best suited for projects Provides detailed empirical knowledge based on real world research undertaken in five countries over three continents on both a citywide scale and on individual buildings Case studies and exemplars demonstrate the application of the knowledge in North and South America Canada Australia New Zealand and in Europe Addresses the key themes of technology finance and procurement and the regulatory framework The first research based book to examine how to improve resilience to climate change through sustainable reuse of buildings Building Urban Resilience Through Change of Use is a welcome book for researchers and academics involved in building surveying urban development and sustainability planning

Ways of Residing in Transformation Sten Gromark, Mervi Ilmonen, Katrin Paadam, Eli Støa, 2017-05-15 Profound transformations in residential practices are emerging in Europe as well as throughout the urban world They can be observed in the unfolding diversity of residential architecture and spatially restructured cities The complexity of urban and societal processes behind these changes requires new research approaches in order to fully grasp the significant changes in citizens lifestyles their residential preferences capacities and future opportunities for implementing resilient residential practices The international case studies in this book examine why ways of residing have changed as well as the meaning and the significance of the social economic political cultural and symbolic contexts The volume brings together an interdisciplinary range of perspectives to reflect specifically upon the dynamic exchange between evolving ways of residing and professional practices in the fields of architecture and design planning policy making facilities management property and market In doing so it provides a resourceful basis for further inquiries seeking an understanding of ways of residing in transformation as a reflection of diversifying residential cultures This book will offer insights of interest to academics policy makers and professionals as well as students of urban studies sociology architecture housing planning business and economics
