The Developing Human Mind Tom Hagström, 2023-04-21 This book proposes a developmental theory of human mind as a basic interaction system of meaning making elements so called dualities progressing in dialectical shifts towards higher self awareness It elaborates on why this system has developed evolutionary how it develops in the life courses of humans in modern societies and what hampers and promotes its progression to meet contemporary and future societal challenges

Emerging Adulthood in a European Context Rita Žukauskienė, 2015-12-07 Emerging adulthood has been identified as an important developmental stage characterised by identity exploration instability and open possibilities in which young people are no longer adolescents but have not yet attained full adult status This ground breaking edited collection is the first book to offer a comprehensive overview of emerging adulthood in a European context which includes a comparison of findings in 9 different European countries and the USA Each chapter written by a leading European researcher describes the socio demographic characteristics of emerging adults reviews the state of the field synthesises new findings and provides suggestions for how to move forward in research interventions and policy The book examines how the traditional domain markers of adulthood such as finishing education and caring for children have changed It also highlights how different factors such as gender working status living arrangements romantic status and parental educational background affect the importance assigned to each set of adulthood criteria The theory of emerging adulthood is further developed by considering how Arnett s emerging adulthood Erikson s early adulthood and Robinson s theory of early adult crisis fit together and data is provided to support the new framework given The book will be of great interest to researchers interested in these developmental transitions and to advanced students of Emerging Adulthood on developmental psychology and lifespan courses and related disciplines

Aging and Development Peter G. Coleman, Ann O'Hanlon, 2017-02-03 The psychology of aging usually focuses upon cognitive changes with a particular focus on dementia and other forms of cognitive decline But getting older is about more than simply changes to the brain and related health issues Changes to our social and emotional lives are also hugely significant as we adapt across our lifespan The second edition of Aging and Development is the only textbook available that responds to the growing interest in social personal and emotional development in older age Ideally suited to complement texts on cognitive change the book provides a holistic developmental perspective on aging It highlights a range of issues including the development of personal meaning and spirituality improvements in emotional control uses of reminiscence and life review the importance of healthy attitudes to aging as well as the maintenance of close personal relationships It does not avoid the difficult issues of late life decline but illustrates how even in circumstances of physical and mental frailty a positive sense of self can be created and enhanced Fully updated to provide the most cutting edge overview on this burgeoning topic of interest Aging and Development includes a glossary and list of useful websites both on the study of gerontology and the psychology of aging It will be essential reading for all students of developmental psychology as well as anyone either training to work or already working with older people Flourishing in Emerging Adulthood Laura M. Padilla-Walker, Larry J. Nelson, 2017-03-31
