Feeling Film: Affect and Authenticity in Popular Cinema Greg Singh, 2014-01-21 Cinema has the capacity to enflame our passions to arouse our pity to inspire our love Feeling Film is a book that examines the emotional encounters found in contemporary popular cinema cultures Examining melodrama film noir comic book franchises cult indie movies and romantic comedy within the context of a Jungian informed psychology and contemporary movements in film philosophy this book considers the various kinds of feelings engendered by our everyday engagements with cinema Greg Singh questions the popular idea of what cinema is and considers what happens during the anticipation and act of watching a movie through to the act of sharing our feelings about them the reviewing process and repeat viewing practices Feeling Film does this through a critique of purely textual approaches instead offering a model which emphasises lived warm embodied and inhabited psychological relationships between the viewer and the viewed It extends the narrative action of cinema beyond the duration of the screening into realms of anticipation and afterlife in particular providing insight into the tertiary and participatory practices afforded through rich media engagement In rethinking the everyday co productive relationship between viewer and viewed from this perspective Feeling Film reinstates the importance of feelings as a central concern for film theory What emerges from this study is a re engagement of the place of emotion affect and feeling in film theory and criticism In reconsidering the duration of the cinematic encounter Feeling Film makes a significant contribution to the understanding of the inter subjective relationship between viewer and viewed It takes post Jungian criticism into the realms of post cinema technologies and reignites the dialogue between depth psychology and the study of images as they appear to and for us This book will make essential reading for those interested in the relationship between film and aspects of depth psychology film and philosophy students at advanced undergraduate and postgraduate levels film and cinema academics and cinephiles

Jung & Film II Christopher Hauke, Luke Hockley, 2011 This book tackles the broader issues of film production and consumption the audience and the place of film culture in our lives Jung and Film II: The Return Christopher Hauke, Luke Hockley, 2012-05-23 Since Jung and Film was first published in 2001 Jungian writing on the moving image in film and television has accelerated Jung and Film II The Return provides new contributions from authors across the globe willing to tackle the broader issues of film production and consumption the audience and the place of film culture in our lives As well as chapters dealing with particular film makers such as Maya Derren and films such as Birth The Piano The Wrestler and Breaking the Wave there is also a unique chapter co written by documentary film maker Tom Hurvitz and New York Jungian analyst Margaret Klenck Other areas of discussion include the way in which psychological issues come under scrutiny in many movies the various themes that concern Jungian writers on film how Jungian ideas on psychological personality types can be applied in fresh ways to analyse a variety of characters The book also includes a glossary to help readers with Jungian words and concepts Jung and Film II is not only a welcome companion to the first volume it is an important stand alone work essential for all academics and students of analytical psychology as well as film media and cultural studies

Music as Image Benjamin Nagari, 2015-06-26 Through a theoretical and practical exploration of Jungian and post Jungian concepts surrounding image this book moves beyond the visual scope of imagery to consider the presence and expression of music and sound as well as how the psyche encounters expanded images archetypal personal or cultural on both conscious and unconscious levels By closely examining music in film Nagari considers music s complementary enhancing meaningful and sometimes disruptive contribution to expressive images Chapters present a Jungian approach to music in film highlighting how music image functions both independently and in conjunction with the visual image and suggesting further directions in areas of research including music therapy and autism Divided into three cumulative parts Part I explores the Jungian psychological account of the music image Part II combines theory with practice in analysing how the auditory image works with the visual to create the film as a whole experience and Part III implements a specific understanding of three individual film cases of different genres eras and styles as psychologically scrutinised case histories Music as Image will be of interest to academics and students in the fields of applied psychoanalysis and Jungian psychology music film and cultural studies With implications for music therapy and other art based therapies it will also be relevant for practising psychotherapists

Jungian Film Studies Helena Bassil-Morozow, Luke Hockley, 2016-11-25 Jungian film studies is a fast growing academic field but Jungian and post Jungian concepts are still new to many academics and film critics Helena Bassil Morozow and Luke Hockley present Jungian Film Studies The Essential Guide the first book to bring together all the different strands issues and arguments in the discipline and guide the reader through the various ways in which Jungian psychology can be applied to moving images Bassil Morozow and Hockley cover a range of Jungian concepts including the collective unconscious archetypes the individuation process alchemy and signs and symbols showing how they can be used to discuss the core cinematic issues such as narrative structure gender identity genre authorship and phenomenology The authors argue that as a place where the unconscious and conscious meet cinema offers the potential for imagery that is psychologically potent meaningful and that plays a role in our personal psychological development This much needed book which bridges the space between Jungian concepts and traditional film theory will be essential reading for scholars and students of Analytical Psychology psychoanalysis Jungian film studies media film and cultural studies psychosocial psychology and clinical psychology It will also appeal to analytical psychologists psychotherapists and readers with an interest in film analysis

Jung and Film Christopher Hauke, Ian Alister, 2021-12-16 Jung and Film brings together some of the best new writing from both sides of the Atlantic introducing the use of Jungian ideas in film analysis Illustrated with examinations of seminal films including Pulp Fiction Blade Runner and 2001 A Space Odyssey Chris Hauke and Ian Alister along with an excellent array of contributors look at how Jungian ideas can help us understand films and the genres to which they belong The book also includes a glossary to help readers with Jungian terminology Taking a fresh look at an ever changing medium Jung and Film is essential reading for academics and students of analytical psychology as well as film media and cultural studies

Filming the Nation Donatella Spinelli Coleman, 2012-12-06 Italian neo realism has inspired film audiences and fascinated critics and film scholars for decades This book offers an original analysis of the movement and its defining films from the perspective of the cultural unconscious Combining a Jungian reading with traditional theorizations of film and national identity Filming the Nation reinterprets familiar images of well known masterpieces by Roberto Rossellini Vittorio de Sica and Luchino Visconti and introduces some of their less renowned yet equally significant films Providing an illuminating analysis of film images across a particularly traumatic and complex historical period Filming the Nation revisits the concept of national identity and its construction from a perspective that combines cultural psychoanalytic and post Jungian theories As such this book will be essential reading for all students and scholars of film and psychoanalysis

Film After Jung Greg Singh, 2014-02-25 Popular film as a medium of communication expression and storytelling has proved one of the most durable and fascinating cultural forms to emerge during the twentieth century and has long been the object of debate discussion and interpretation Film After Jung provides the reader with an overview of the history of film theory and delves into analytical psychology to consider the reaction that popular film can evoke through emotional and empathetic engagement with its audience This book includes an introduction to film scholarship discussions of key Jungian concepts Post Jungian film studies beyond film It also considers the potential for post Jungian contributions to film studies and the ways in which these can help to enrich the lives of those undergoing clinical analysis Film After Jung encourages students of film and psychology to explore the insights and experiences of everyday life that film has to offer by applying Post Jungian concepts to film image construction narrative and issues in cultural theory It will enhance the film student s knowledge of film engagement as well as introducing the Jungian analyst to previously unexplored traditions in film theory
