Dialogue and Rhetoric Edda Weigand, 2008 The volume deals with the relationship between dialogue and rhetoric The actual state of the art in dialogue analysis is characterized by a tendency to overcome the distinction between competence and performance and to combine components from both sides of the dichotomy in a way which includes rules as well as inferences The same is true of rhetoric the guidelines proposed here no longer state that rationality and persuasion are mutually exclusive but suggest that they interact in what might be called the mixed game The concept of a dialogic rhetoric thus poses the question of how to integrate the different voices Part I of the volume assembles several rhetorical paradigms which are applied to real life performance Part II on rhetoric in the mixed game contains a selection of papers which illustrate the interaction of various components The Round Table discussion in Part III brings proponents of different paradigms face to face with each other and shows how they justify their own positions and present arguments against rival paradigms

The affective city Stefano Catucci, Federico De Matteis, 2022-01-21 Cities are not made only of stone they harbor ways of life practices movements moods atmospheres feelings Yet the ineffable nature of affects has long deprived human passions of a meaningful role when it comes to observing urban space and envisioning its future transformation With this book we explore the contemporary city and its transitional conditions from a different perspective a quest to understand how the space of collective life and the feelings this engenders are connected how they mutually give form to each other In an interdisciplinary collection of essays The Affective City means to open a discussion on the soft presences animating the world of urban objects beyond the city built out of mere things this book's focus is on the forces that make urban life emerge thrive flourish but also wither and sometimes die A task crucial for the survival of cities as human habitats in an urban world that with every passing day seems to draw closer a crisis

Brand-Driven City Building and the Virtualizing of Space Alexander Gutzmer, 2014-04-24 This book is an investigation of the cultural phenomenon of branding and its transformational effects on the contemporary spatial and urban reality It develops a novel understanding of the rationale behind the construction of large scale architectural complexes that relate to corporate brands and of its tremendous cultural effects The author suggests that what we see today is the creation of global mass ornaments of a thorough ornamentalization of the entire globe The origins of this are discussed with regard to examples of corporate brand building from Europe and China Autostadt Wolfsburg BMW Welt Munich and Anting New Town Additional cases are several simulated spaces in Berlin and the space branding activities of companies like Apple or Prada Theoretically the author develops an innovative poststructuralist framework combining ideas from Gilles Deleuze with the space philosophy of Peter Sloterdijk He analyzes how the corporate redefinition of space makes the city enter into a mode of virtual urbanity This idea leads to a notion of a global urban and ultimately the global mass ornament This concept of a global mass ornament is developed here with reference to Sloterdijk's concept of a world of spheres The latter is used to understand the new mode of spatiality of mediatized spaces The book makes the point that our world is involved in a process of mass ornamentalization that has only just begun The concept of the global mass ornament is the first to come to grips with a culture in which branding is effectively changing the physiognomy of the earth The global mass ornament is a banner for a cultural transformation that employs architecture sign theory and mechanisms borrowed from traditional advertising and from social media as well as social processes and that we have yet to properly understand This book is a significant step forward in this respect

Atmospheres: Aesthetics of Emotional Spaces Tonino Griffero, 2016-04-08 Originally published in Italian in 2010 this book is the first to address the theory of atmospheres in a thorough and systematic way It examines the role of atmospheres in daily life and defines their main characteristics Outlining the typical phenomenological situations in which we experience atmospheres it assesses their impact on contemporary aesthetics It puts forward a philosophical approach which systematises a constellation of affects and climates finds patterns in the emotional tones of different spaces affordances and assesses their impact on the felt body It also critically discusses the spatial turn invoked by several of the social sciences and argues that there is a need for a non psychologistic rethinking of the philosophy of emotions It provides a history of the term atmosphere and of the concepts anticipating its meaning genius loci aura Stimmung numinous emotional design and ambiance and examines the main ontological characteristics of atmospheres and their principal phenomenological characteristics It concludes by showing how atmospheres affect our emotions our bodies reactions our state of mind and as a result our behaviour and judgments Griffero assesses how atmospheres are more effective than we have been rationally willing to admit and to what extent traditional aesthetics unilaterally oriented towards art has underestimated this truth A People's Guide to New York City Carolina Bank Muñoz, Penny Lewis, Emily Tumpson Molina, 2022-01-25 This alternative guidebook for one of the world's most popular tourist destinations explores all five boroughs to reveal a people's New York City. The sites and stories of A People's Guide to New York City shift our perception of what defines New York, placing the passion, determination, defeats and victories of its people at the core. Delving into the histories of New York's five boroughs, you will encounter enslaved Africans in revolt, women marching for equality, workers on strike, musicians and performers claiming streets for their art, and neighbors organizing against landfills and industrial toxins and in support of affordable housing and public schools. The streetscapes that emerge from these groups' struggles bear the traces, and this book shows you where to look to find them. New York City is a preeminent global city, serving as the headquarters for hundreds of multinational firms and a world-renowned cultural hub for fashion, art, and music. It is among the most multicultural cities in the world and also one of the most segregated cities in the United States. The people that make this global city function—immigrants, people of color, and the working classes—reside largely in the so-called outer boroughs, outside the corporations, neon, and skyscrapers of Manhattan. A People's Guide to New York City expands the scope and scale of traditional guidebooks, providing an equitable exploration of the diverse communities throughout the city. Through the stories of over 150 sites across the Bronx, Manhattan, Queens, Brooklyn, and Staten Island, as well as thematic tours and contemporary and archival photographs, a people's New York emerges, one in which collective struggles for justice and freedom have shaped the very landscape of the city. Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1991 No Space Hidden Grey Gundaker, Judith McWillie, 2005 Focusing primarily though not exclusively on the southeastern United States, the book examines works ranging from James Hampton's well-known Throne of the Third Heaven of the Nations Millennium General Assembly (now part of the Smithsonian collection) to several elaborately decorated yards and gardens to smaller-scale acts of commemoration, protection, and witness. The authors show how the artful arrangement and adornment of everyday objects and plants express both the maker's own experiences and concerns and a number of rich and sustaining cultural traditions. They identify a lexicon of material signs that are frequently and consistently used in African American culture and art, and then show how such elements have been used in various individual works and what they mean to the practitioners themselves. BOOK JACKET Hành Trình Văn Hoá: A Journey Through Vietnamese Culture Tri C. Tran, Minh-Tam Tran, 2013-12-02 This intermediate textbook continues to develop students' skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing Vietnamese at the second-year language learning level. The book is presented as a linguistic and cultural journey of a family through twelve selected cities in Vietnam. Each chapter is organized into sections on dialogue, grammar, reading practice, exercises, and vocabulary.
