Textiles in the Digital Age Nithikul Nimkulrat, Faith Kane, Kerry Walton, 2016-09-08 In an era of increasingly available digital resources many textile designers and makers find themselves at an interesting juncture between traditional craft processes and newer digital technologies Highly specialized craft design practitioners may now elect to make use of digital processes in their work but often choose not to abandon craft skills fundamental to their practice and aim to balance the complex connection between craft and digital processes The essays collected here consider this transition from the viewpoint of aesthetic opportunity arising in the textile designer's hands on experimentation with material and digital technologies available in the present Craft provides the foundations for thinking within the design and production of textiles and as such may provide some clues in the transition to creative and thoughtful use of current and future digital technologies Within the framework of current challenges relating to sustainable development globalization and economic constraints it is important to interrogate and question how we might go about using established and emerging technologies in textiles in a positive manner Toward a New Culture of the Material Frank Bauer, Yoonha Kim, Sabine Marienberg, Wolfgang

Weitekamp, 2013-10-30 This ninth volume of the Artefacts series explores how artists have responded to developments in science and technology past and present Rather than limiting the discussion to art alone editors Anne Collins Goodyear and Margaret Weitekamp also asked contributors to consider aesthetics the scholarly consideration of sensory responses to cultural objects When considered as aesthetic objects how do scientific instruments or technological innovations reflect and embody culturally grounded assessments about appearance feel and use And when these objects become museum artifacts what aesthetic factors affect their exhibition Contributors found answers in the material objects themselves This volume reconsiders how science technology art and aesthetics impact one another

Language and tool support for 3D crochet patterns Klara Seitz,Jens Lincke,Patrick Rein,Robert Hirschfeld,2021-09-09 Crochet is a popular handcraft all over the world While other techniques such as knitting or weaving have received technical support over the years through machines crochet is still a purely manual craft Not just the act of crochet itself is manual but also the process of creating instructions for new crochet patterns which is barely supported by domain specific digital solutions This leads to unstructured and often also ambiguous and erroneous pattern instructions In this report we propose a concept to digitally represent crochet patterns This format incorporates crochet techniques which allows domain specific support for crochet pattern designers during the pattern creation and instruction writing process As contributions we present a thorough domain analysis the concept of a graph structure used as domain specific language to specify crochet patterns and a prototype of a projectional editor using the graph as representation format of patterns and a diagramming system to visualize them in 2D and 3D By analyzing the domain we learned about crochet techniques and pain points of designers in their pattern creation workflow These insights are the basis on which we defined the pattern representation In order to evaluate our concept we built a prototype by which the feasibility of the concept is shown and we tested the software with professional crochet designers who approved of the concept
