Citizens, Civil Society, and Activism under the EPRDF Regime in Ethiopia Camille Louise Pellerin, Logan Cochrane, 2023-07-15 In 2014-15 the Ethiopian government together with many academics and observers was surprised by the outbreak of anti government protests as large scale public contestation of the Ethiopian People's Revolutionary Democratic Front EPRDF had been largely absent in the regime's history The dominant narrative about the EPRDF regime was that it was a top down government using authoritarian methods to ensure the population abided by its visions and directives and describing its role in paternalistic ways such as being the protector and guardian of the people Changing this narrative Citizens Civil Society and Activism under the EPRDF Regime in Ethiopia considers how citizens and civil society expressed their interests and exerted their agency in an authoritarian setting Focusing on the EPRDF regime over a period of three decades up to 2019 the book explores civic activism in Ethiopia presenting diverse examples of how citizens have reshaped the country Challenging state centric readings of state society relations under EPRDF governance this collection provides a counternarrative that emphasizes the role and agency of citizens and civil society The contributing authors draw on a heuristic analytical framework that examines different types of interactions between civil society and state actors co-optation co-operation coexistence and contestation and captures the ways in which civil society actors make their voices heard At a time when authoritarian forms of governance are increasingly prevalent across the world this critically important collection offers insight into how citizens claim their agency and challenge state power in apparently top down contexts

Transforming Politics, Transforming America Taeku Lee, Subramanian Karthick Ramakrishnan, Ricardo Ramírez, 2006 Over the past four decades the foreign born population in the United States has nearly tripled from about 10 million in 1965 to more than 30 million today This wave of new Americans comes in disproportionately large numbers from Latin America and Asia a pattern that is likely to continue in this century In Transforming Politics Transforming America editors Taeku Lee S Karthick Ramakrishnan and Ricardo Ramírez bring together the newest work of prominent scholars in the field of immigrant political incorporation to provide the first comprehensive look at the political behavior of immigrants Focusing on the period from 1965 to the year 2020 this volume tackles the fundamental yet relatively neglected questions What is the meaning of citizenship and what is its political relevance How are immigrants changing our notions of racial and ethnic categorization How is immigration transforming our understanding of mobilization participation and political assimilation With an emphasis on research that brings innovative theory quantitative methods and systematic data to bear on such questions this volume presents a provocative evidence based examination of the consequences that these demographic changes might have for the contemporary politics of the United States as well as for the concerns categories and conceptual frameworks we use to study race relations and ethnic politics Contributors Bruce Cain University of California Berkeley Grace Cho University of Michigan Jack Citrin University of California Berkeley Louis DeSipio University of California Irvine Brendan Doherty University of California Berkeley Lisa García Bedolla University of California Irvine Zoltan Hajnal University of California San Diego Jennifer Holdaway Social Science Research Council Jane Junn Rutgers University Philip Kasinitz City University of New York Taeku Lee University of California Berkeley John Mollenkopf City University of New York Tatishe Mavovosi Nteta University of California Berkeley Kathryn Pearson University of Minnesota Kenneth Prewitt Columbia University S Karthick Ramakrishnan University of California Riverside Ricardo Ramírez University of Southern California Mary Waters Harvard University Cara Wong University of Michigan Janelle Wong University of Southern California
