Rethinking Intercultural Education in Times of Migration and Displacement Nektaria Palaiologou, 2023-10-06 Which are the main issues which are at the forefront of the academic discourse within the field of intercultural education today That s the central question on which the current volume attempts to shed some light By presenting theoretical foundations research findings practical examples and case studies the book helps readers to go beyond stereotypes and prejudices strengthening the intercultural education principles in their practices The diverse perspectives contained in the book provided through contributions from authors from different countries encourage readers to critically reflect on the promotion and further development of intercultural and multicultural education and on the different approaches for effectively facing complex diversity issues in multicultural settings

Towards a Complex Model of Interpretation of Recognition Isabella Corvino, 2023-04-21 Seeing yourself or an Other and then recognizing them are activities of enormous complexity From these processes we experience belonging which in a bureaucratic sense this is analogous with citizenship and in a broader sense inclusion or exclusion As long as identity springs from all kinds of social interactions there exists a chance to create an inclusive community This book will make clear through case studies of migrants that when peoples are perceived as possessing a radical Otherness there is a high risk of exclusion if not aggression In a rejection of the prevalent individualistic perspectives this book pulls all of the scattered puzzle pieces back together Through the process of clarifying misrecognition and its subsequent dehumanization it will be possible to think about a shared and fairer society

L'integrazione dei rifugiati. Formazione e inclusione nelle rappresentazioni degli operatori sociali Marco

Catarci, 2011-09-26 T00:00:00+02:00 1115 1 11 Geographies of Asylum in Europe and the Role of European

Localities Birgit Glorius, Jeroen Doomernik, 2019-10-03 This open access book describes how the numerous arrivals of asylum seekers since 2015 shaped reception and integration processes in Europe It addresses the structuration of asylum and reception systems and spaces and places of reception on European national regional and local level It also analyses perceptions and discourses on asylum and refugees their involvement and the consequences for policy development Furthermore it examines practices and policy developments in the field of refugee reception and integration The volume shows and explains a variety of refugee reception and integration strategies and practices as specific outcome of multilevel governance processes in Europe By addressing and contextualizing those multiple experiences of asylum seeker reception the book is a valuable contribution to the literature on migration and integration societal development and political culture in Europe

Refugee Protection and the Role of Law Susan Kneebone, Dallah Stevens, Loretta Baldassar, 2014-06-27 Sixty years on from the signing of the Refugee Convention forced migration and refugee movements continue to raise global concerns for hosting states and regions for countries of origin for humanitarian organisations on the ground and of course for the refugee This edited volume is framed around two themes which go to the core of contemporary refugeehood protection and identity It analyses how the issue of refugee identity is shaped by and responds to the legal regime of refugee protection in contemporary times The book investigates the premise that there is a narrowing of protection space in many countries and many highly visible incidents of refoulement It argues that Protection which is a core focus of the Refugee Convention appears to be under threat as there are many gaps and inconsistencies in practice Contributors to the volume who include Erika Feller Elspeth Guild H l ne Lambert and Roger Zetter look at the relevant issues from the perspective of a number of different disciplines including law politics sociology and anthropology The chapters examine the link between identity and protection as a basis for understanding how the Refugee Convention has been and is being applied in policy and practice The situation in a number of jurisdictions and regions in Europe North America South East Asia Africa and the Middle East is explored in order to ask the question does jurisprudence under the Refugee Convention need better coordination and how successful is oversight of the Convention

Entrapping Asylum Seekers Francesco Vecchio, Alison Gerard, 2018-02-08 This book is an interdisciplinary attempt to understand the contemporaneous human condition of asylum seekers through analysis of their entrapment and the resultant new forms of resistance that have emerged to combat it Based on qualitative research data the chapters support the claim that asylum seekers are entrapped in social legal and economic precariousness amidst the complex relationship between individual agency and social structure By exploring the practices and lived experiences of asylum seekers and other parties involved in their migration and reception the authors explore the structural and individual agency factors that entrap asylum seekers in precarious livelihoods and lead to marginalization and social exclusion A bold and timely study this edited collection will be essential reading for academics and students of criminology sociology anthropology urban studies and social policy

The History of Migration in Europe Francesca Fauri, 2014-10-03 The History of Migration in Europe belies several myths by arguing for example that immobility has not been the normal condition of people before the modern era Migration far from being an income maximizing choice taken by lone individuals is often a household strategy and local wages benefit from migration This book shows how successes arise when governments liberalize and accompany the international movements of people with appropriate legislation while failures take place when the legislation enacted is insufficient belated or ill shaped Part I of this book addresses mainly methodological issues Past and present migration is basically defined as a cross cultural movement cultural boundaries need prolonged residence and active integrationist policies to allow cross fertilization of cultures among migrants and non migrants Part II collects chapters that examine the role of public bodies with reference to migratory movements depicting a series of successes and failures in the migration policies through examples drawn from the European Union or single countries Part III deals with challenges immigrants face once they have settled in their new countries Do immigrants seek integration in their host culture Through which channels is such integration achieved and what roles are played by citizenship and political participation What is the identity of migrants and their children born in the host countries This text s originality stems from the fact that it explains the complex nature of migratory movements by incorporating a variety of perspectives and using a multi disciplinary approach including economic political and sociological contributions The Politics of International Migration Management M. Geiger,A. Pécout,2010-10-13 Throughout the world governments and intergovernmental organizations such as the International Organization for Migration are developing new approaches aimed at renewing migration policy making This book now in paperback critically analyzes the actors discourses and practices of migration management Richiedenti asilo e rifugiati politici.
