Crossing Borders In East Asian Higher Education Cerc Studies In Comparative Education:

Crossing Borders in East Asian Higher Education David W. Chapman, William K. Cummings, Gerard A.

Postiglione, 2010-11-18 This book examines issues that have emerged as higher education systems and individual institutions across East Asia confront and adapt to the changing economic social and educational environments in which they now operate The book's focus is on how higher education systems learn from each other and on the ways in which they collaborate to address new challenges The sub theme that runs through this volume concerns the changing nature of cross border sharing In particular the provision of technical assistance by more industrialized countries to lower and middle income countries has given way to collaborations that place the latter's participating institutions on a more equal footing

Comparative Education Research Mark Bray, Bob Adamson, Mark Mason, 2014-06-09 Approaches and methods in comparative education are of obvious importance but do not always receive adequate attention This second edition of a well received book containing thoroughly updated and additional material contributes new insights within the longstanding traditions of the field A particular feature is the focus on different units of analysis Individual chapters compare places systems times cultures values policies curricula and other units These chapters are contextualised within broader analytical frameworks which identify the purposes and strengths of the field The book includes a focus on intra national as well as cross national comparisons and highlights the value of approaching themes from different angles As already demonstrated by the first edition of the book the work will be of great value not only to producers of comparative education research but also to users who wish to understand more thoroughly the parameters and value of the field

International Status Anxiety and Higher Education Anatoly V. Oleksiyenko, Qiang Zha, Igor Chirikov, Jun Li, 2024-08-01 This volume provides a critical perspective on the Soviet legacy of global competition and status anxiety in international higher education Investigating tensions generated by the traditional power instruments of coercion money and attraction the book looks into the dynamics of multi level forces that either advance progressive university policies and practices or lead to hyper centralization indoctrination and unfreedom of inquiry in higher education The volume provides insights into political sources that champion the anxiety about superpower status over the agenda of social equality fairness and freedom in universities and their communities The manuscript offers an excellent collation of studies shedding light on the phenomenon of de Sovietization which was previously largely overlooked and underexplored in the higher education literature The book appeals to policy makers practitioners and scholars of higher education who seek to understand historical and political conditions that affect the currency of Chinese and Russian scholarship As de Sovietization of higher education may often be aspiration than reality in the two post totalitarian countries this book offers a unique thought provoking frame of analysis urging for more studies in the area as well as encouraging enhanced responsibility in creating sufficient room for freedom of critical inquiry examines the ways in which China's universities have changed in the dramatic move to a mass stage which has unfolded since the late 1990s. Twelve universities in different regions of the country are portrayed through the eyes of their students, faculty and leaders. The book begins with the national level policy process around the move to mass higher education. This is followed by an analysis of the views of 2,300 students on the 12 campuses about how the changes have affected their learning experiences and civil society involvement. The 12 portraits in the next section are of three comprehensive universities, three education related universities, three science and technology universities and three newly emerging private universities. The final chapter sketches the contours of an emerging Chinese model of the university and explores its connections to China's longstanding scholarly traditions.

China's Soft Power and Higher Education in South Asia Romi Jain, 2021-05-17. This empirical work illuminates how China uses the higher education mechanism in South Asia to advance its national interests and investigates the outcomes for China including both challenges and opportunities. Using a soft power theoretical framework, this book employs the case study of Nepal, a South Asian country of profound geostrategic value for the two competing powers of China and India. Illustrating how higher education is the mechanism for achieving soft power goals, it draws on data analysis based on archival sources and interviews with China and South Asia experts including academics and politico-bureaucratic elites as well as interviews with Nepalese students and alumni. Importantly, though this book advances an innovative conceptual model of geointellect to trace the evolving dimensions of China's global dominance in higher education research and innovation paradigm, especially in the context of the Belt and Road Initiative, and ultimately reveals how foreign policy and higher education policy reinforce each other in the context of China. China's Soft Power and Higher Education in South Asia provides an empirically rich resource for students and scholars of education, international relations, Asian studies and China's soft power.

Transnational Education and Curriculum Studies John Chi-Kin Lee, Noel Gough, 2020-07-28. In recent years, there has been increasing attention placed on international and transnational aspects of school and higher education curricula and the different research approaches and lenses through which these issues are studied. This edited volume explores diverse perspectives and discourses of curriculum studies contributed by scholars both within and outside the majority world. In addition, it tackles both transnational cross-border endeavours involving national governments and policy measures and the promises, challenges and failings of those formal relationships. The book consists of three sections. The first section provides an introduction and overviews of transnational education in connection with curriculum studies, schooling and higher education. The second section deals with transnational and international perspectives on curriculum studies, schooling and education. The final third section highlights transnational and international perspectives on higher education. This timely volume tackles the questions often posed by curriculum scholars and educational researchers around the possibility of a transnational approach to curriculum studies and how and if a common set of means can transcend national boundaries and sensitivities. It looks at the common issues and problems across
