| 1. What is the first when Giles Corey interrupts the court? How does the court respond to this person charged since Act 1?                                     |  | 18. What sacrifice does Elizabeth make for her husband? How is the result of this sacrifice impact?                                                                           | She has to protect their small sons and leave his affair alone.She tried to protect her name and now her life is on the line.                                                                           |
| 2. How has Giles' family changed with the women?                                                                                                               |  | 19. When John tells Elizabeth he has confessed the sins, "Oh God!" why doesn't Elizabeth recognize this and realize John is telling the truth?                                | She doesn't care about anything other than her own reputation and he doesn't want to be made to look foolish.                                                                                               |
| 3. Explain how Francis attacks Deputy Governor Danforth. What does the fact that Danforth is offended tell us about his character?                             |  | 20. What do the girls give along with Hester and her prices at the end of the trial?                                                                                          | They are the chaos that is unfolding, and when Hester Danforth threaten Mary with jail if she doesn't the initial accusations, so they are trying to save themselves.                                       |
| 4. Why do you think Danforth is concerned whether Proctor has told anyone else about the girls' lies?                                                          |  | 21. In what way has Hester completed his transformation as a dynamic character by end of Act 3?                                                                               | Hester came in as a beautiful woman, but now you ready to make the world's mistakes, now the girls not believe in witchcraft, she says that he denounces the proceedings and ends the court.                |
| 5. Explain Danforth's statement as it pertains to the title of the play. "We burn a hot fire here; it melts down all concealment."                             |  | 22. Upon leaving the act, explain how Proctor's earlier advice to Mary Warren is ironic to both of their situations. "Do that which is good, and no harm shall come to thee." | There innocent girls there into more trouble.Proctor and Mary Warren try to tell the truth but others they do they what we want because Proctor goes to jail and the girls are in the courtroom and she |
| 6. Explain the significance of the two things Chorus states to the court as evidence against Proctor's good character. What could this evidence mean to court? |  |                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
