Devices of Curiosity Oliver Gaycken, 2015 Devices of Curiosity excavates a largely unknown genre of early cinema the popular science film Primarily a work of cinema history it also draws on the insights of the history of science Beginning around 1903 a variety of producers made films about scientific topics for general audiences inspired by a vision of cinema as an educational medium This book traces the development of popular science films over the first half of the silent era from its beginnings in England to its flourishing in France around 1910 Devices of Curiosity also considers how popular science films exemplify the circulation of knowledge These films initially relied upon previous traditions such as the magic lantern lecture for their representational strategies and they continually had recourse to established visual iconography but they also created novel visual paradigms and led to the creation of ambitious new film collections Finally the book discerns a transit between nonfictional and fictional modes seeing affinities between popular science films and certain aspects of fiction films particularly Louis Feuillade's crime melodramas This kind of circulation is important for an understanding of the wider relevance of early popular science films which impacted the formation of the documentary educational and avant garde cinemas

Devices of wonder Barbara Maria Stafford, Frances Terpak, Isotta Poggi, 2001 The Book of Wonders Rudolph John Bodmer, Amelie Willard Bodmer, 1914 The Theological Intentions of Mark's Literary Devices Dean B. Deppe, 2015-10-22 What sets The Theological Intentions of Mark's Literary Devices apart from other books What niche does it fill that makes its publication important This volume will interest all those who value a literary approach to the Gospel of Mark Dean Deppe introduces some new literary devices in the research of the Gospel of Mark as well as demonstrates the theological intentions of Mark when he employs these literary devices Deppe argues that Mark employs the literary devices of intercalation framework allusionary repetitions narrative surprises and three types of mirroring to indicate where he speaks symbolically and metaphorically at two levels Mark employs these literary devices not just for dramatic tension and irony but also for theological reasons to apply the Jesus tradition to specific problems in his own day Aristotelianism and Magic in Early Modern Europe Donato Verardi, 2023-06-15 Reframing Aristotle's natural philosophy this wide ranging collection of essays reveals the centrality of magic to his thinking From late medieval and Renaissance discussions on the attribution of magical works to Aristotle to the philosophical and social justifications of magic international contributors chart magic as the mother science of natural philosophy Tracing the nascent presence of Aristotelianism in early modern Europe this volume shows the adaptability and openness of Aristotelianism to magic Weaving the paranormal and the scientific together it pairs the supposed superstition of the pre modern era with modern scientific sensibilities Essays focus on the work of early modern scholars and magicians such as Giambattista Della Porta Wolferd Senguerd and Johann Nikolaus Martius The attribution of the Secretum secretorum to Aristotle the role of illusionism and the relationship between the technical and magical all provide further insight into the complex picture of magic Aristotle and early modern Europe Aristotelianism and Magic in Early Modern Europe proposes an innovative way of approaching the development of pre modern science whilst also acknowledging the crucial role that concepts like magic and illusion played in Aristotle s time

Doing Experimental Media Archaeology Andreas Fickers, Annie Oever, 2022-12-31 This book offers a plea to take the materiality of media technologies and the sensorial and tacit dimensions of media use into account in the writing of the histories of media and technology In short it is a bold attempt to question media history from the perspective of an experimental media archaeology approach It offers a systematic reflection on the value and function of hands on experimentation in research and teaching Doing Experimental Media Archaeology Theory is the twin volume to Doing Experimental Media Archaeology Practice authored by Tim van der Heijden and Aleksander Kolkowski Federal Trade
