Security in Computing Systems Joachim Biskup, 2008-11-14 This monograph on Security in Computing Systems Challenges Approaches and Solutions aims at introducing surveying and assessing the fundamentals of security with respect to computing Here computing refers to all activities which individuals or groups directly or indirectly perform by means of computing systems i.e. by means of computers and networks of them built on telecommunication We all are such individuals whether enthusiastic or just bowed to the inevitable So as part of the information society we are challenged to maintain our values to pursue our goals and to enforce our interests by consciously designing a global information infrastructure on a large scale as well as by appropriately configuring our personal computers on a small scale As a result we hope to achieve secure computing Roughly speaking computer assisted activities of individuals and computer mediated cooperation between individuals should happen as required by each party involved and nothing else which might be harmful to any party should occur The notion of security circumscribes many aspects ranging from human qualities to technical enforcement First of all in considering the explicit security requirements of users administrators and other persons concerned we hope that usually all persons will follow the stated rules but we also have to face the possibility that some persons might deviate from the wanted behavior whether accidentally or maliciously

missing Today consumers do not widely use data portability for reasons that can and should be overcome Making data portability more effective is better for competition for innovation and to empower users stress the authors There should be no second guessing on whether to make data portability more effective the time to act is now The current EU framework encourages data portability but there are legal gaps that the EU should fill The authors insist on the need for detailed guidance on how data portability can be facilitated and on which data is subject to data portability without violating privacy rights They advocate that data provided by users when using a service such as search history i e observed data should clearly be included under the scope of data portability The authors consider it essential that the obligation to offer standardised Application Programming Interfaces APIs be much more widespread to enable consumers to continuously port their data We believe that standardised APIs that enable continuous data portability is a prerequisite for encouraging more organisations to import personal data and for encouraging more consumers to initiate such transfers explain the authors Projects such as the Data Transfer Project have highlighted that continuous data portability is technically feasible The authors argue that Personal Management Information Systems PIMs facilitate the complex consent management and offer users a centralised dashboard for monitoring and controlling the flow of their data will have a crucial role to play for the wider adoption of data portability It must be as easy as clicking a button for consumers to continuously share data they created with one provider to another provider This may also require educating and informing users on their rights through information campaigns alongside clear policy measures explain the authors Nevertheless they stress that PIMs are not likely to find a sustainable business model and thus policy makers should support the emergence of open source projects by setting common standards for data transfers consent management and identity management
