Families and People with Mental Retardation and Quality of Life Ann P. Turnbull, Ivan Brown, H. Rutherford Turnbull, 2004 Revision of papers presented at the Eloisa de Lorenzo Symposium on Family Quality of Life held July 30 Aug 1 2000 in Seattle Wash New Developments in the Bioarchaeology of Care Lorna Tilley, Alecia A. Schrenk, 2016-08-22 New Developments in the Bioarchaeology of Care evaluates, refines and expands existing concepts and practices in the developing field of bioarchaeological research into health related care provision in the past. Evidence in human remains that indicates an individual survived with or following a serious pathology suggests this person most likely received some form of care from others. This observation was first made half a century ago but it is only in the last five years that health related caregiving has been accepted as a topic for bioarchaeology research. In this time interest has grown exponentially. A focus on care provides a dynamic framework for examining the experiences of disease and disability in the past at the level of the individual receiving care and that of the community providing it. When caregiving can be identified in the archaeological record, bioarchaeologists may be able to offer unique insights into aspects of past lifeways. This volume represents the work of an international, diverse, cross-disciplinary group of contributors, each bringing their own particular focus, style and expertise to analyzing past health related care. Nineteen chapters offer content that ranges from an introduction to the basic bioarchaeology of care approach through original case studies of care provision to new theoretical perspectives in this emerging area of scholarship. This book creates a synergy that challenges our thinking about past health related care behaviors and about the implications of these behaviors for understanding the social environment in which they took place. Developments in Aging United States.
