Development Induced Displacement And Resettlement Causes Consequences And Socio Legal Context:

Development-Induced Displacement and Resettlement Bogumil Terminski, 2014-05-01 This book explores the issue of development induced resettlement with a particular emphasis on the humanitarian legal and social aspects of this problem Today so called development induced displacement and resettlement DIDR is one of the dominant causes of internal spatial mobility worldwide Each year over 15 million people are forced to abandon their homes to make space for economic development infrastructure The construction of dams and irrigation projects the expansion of communication networks urbanization and re urbanization the extraction and transportation of mineral resources forced evictions in urban areas and population redistribution schemes count among the many possible causes Terminski aims to present the issue of development caused displacement as a highly diverse global social problem occurring in all regions of the world As a human rights issue it poses a challenge to public international law and to institutions providing humanitarian assistance A significant part of this book is devoted to the current dynamics of development caused resettlement in Europe which has been neglected in the academic literature so far Challenging the Prevailing Paradigm of Displacement and Resettlement Michael M.

Cernea, Julie K. Maldonado, 2018-05-25 Development caused forced displacement and resettlement DFDR is a critical problem on the international development agenda The frequency of forced displacements is rapidly increasing the sheer numbers of uprooted and impoverished people reveal fast accelerating trends whilst government reporting remains poor and misleading Challenging the Prevailing Paradigm of Displacement and Resettlement analyzes widespread impoverishment outcomes risks to human rights and other adverse impacts of displacement it documents under compensation of expropriated people critiques cost externalization on resettlers and points a laser light on the absence of protective robust and binding legal frameworks in the overwhelming majority of developing countries In response this book proposes constructive solutions to improve quality and measure the outcomes of forced resettlement prevent the mass manufacturing of new poverty promote social justice and respect human rights It also advocates for the reparation of bad legacies left behind by failed resettlement It brings together prominent scholars and practitioners from several countries who argue that states development agencies and private sector corporations which trigger displacements must adopt a resettlement with development paradigm Towards this end the book's co authors translate cutting edge research into legal economic financial policy and pragmatic operational recommendations An inspiring and compelling guide to the field Challenging the Prevailing Paradigm of Displacement and Resettlement will be of interest to university faculty government officials private corporations researchers and students in anthropology economics sociology law political science human geography and international development

Socio-Economic Human Rights in Essential Public Services Provision Marlies Hesselman, Antenor Hallo de Wolf, Brigit Toebes, 2016-11-10 There is a clear overlap between securing socio economic human rights for all persons and arranging adequate access to essential public services across society Both are necessary to realise thriving inclusive societies with adequate living standards for all based on human dignity This edited volume brings together the two topics for the first time In particular it identifies the common challenges for essential public services provision and socio economic human rights realisation and it explores how socio economic rights law can be harnessed to reinforce better access to services An important aim of this book is to understand how international socio economic human rights law and guideposts can be used and strengthened to improve access to services and assess socio economic legal and policy decisions The volume includes contributions from different continents on a range of different services and engages with the realities of different regulatory settings After an introduction that sets out the most important challenges for universal access to services including sufficient resources mobilisation private actor involvement and regulation or the need for improved checks and balances the book goes on to discuss current issues in services provision and socio economic rights as well as explores the place and role of private business actors in the provision of services In particular it assesses how the responsibility and accountability of such actors for human rights can be improved The final part of the book narrows in on the under explored human rights concepts of participation and accountability as essential prerequisites for better checks and balances Overall this volume presents a unique and powerful illustration of how socio economic human rights law supports improved access to essential public services for all
