Climbing The Mountains:

Life Is Like Climbing a Mountain James E. Bruce, 2008-09 The objective of this book is to inform educate inspire and motivate individuals and groups toward understanding oneself and others through a literal or virtual mountain climbing experience The aim is to introduce the reader to a literary journey that involves the process and the act of mountain climbing This book brings forth the recognition that just as literal mountains may be comprised of rocks trees ice snow and dirt either singularly or in any combination so too are we as individuals comprised of differing traits strengths values mores and beliefs that offer both specific strengths and weaknesses that alternate given the environment that surround us the situation presented to us and what we feel within us A volcanic mountain it should be noted is more representative to one's inner self Similar to that of this living rock changes occur subtly deep within us sometimes immediate and many times occurring unnoticed by us over long periods of time Like the sudden sight of smoke or vibrations felt from underground it is only during the external expression of change do we realize that we and those around us are merely experiencing the change that has long since occurred The inherent volatility of this living rock parallels the vulnerability potential explosiveness and yet the total dependencies that exist in the individual human experience as well as within our local and world communities These physical mountains are used as a metaphor to offer insight into understanding the dynamics and challenges that are involved in the process of climbing a virtual mountain The mountain climbing process might become more meaningful to an explorer who climbs a virtual mountain that may ultimately take the form of realizing a goal dream or aspiration This book explores the spiritual aspect of the physical mountain particularly how the physical mountain has been a reference place for some people whose successful climb offer testimony to a life changing experience This mountain climbing model is useful towards attaining individual personal or collective goals set in areas such as education business wealth building job or career development marriage political aspirations geographical relocating re-establishing oneself raising children leading or managing sports teams hiring and managing a work force or even military strategy This climbing a mountain model can be used for creating a strategic map towards achieving other personal goals such as writing a book building a house from the ground up or regaining physical or mental health Similarly for organizations this climbing a mountain model can be used as a guide when setting an organization's growth plans in motion The principles are the same Finally this book provides a strategic working roadmap that will transform the reader to an explorer to a believer and finally to an achiever The achiever in retrospect will be inspired to recall and then recite the most powerful words I said I can I know that I would and I made it happen

Reaching New Heights Carl Lee, 2013-08 Carl is a businessman who started climbing mountains relatively late in life His love for the mountains and great outdoors started as a boy growing up in Wyoming Weekends were often spent in the Wyoming hills and mountains hunting Indian artifacts or catching trout Climbing always interested him but for most of his life he never considered becoming a mountain climber But as he commuted to his job in Boulder Colorado one beautiful and huge mountain greeted him each day Longs Peak The dormant desire to climb mountains came alive A goal was set to climb Longs Peak This was an especially challenging goal as Carl was still recovering from kidney cancer Together with his rehabilitation specialist plans were made to climb Longs Peak With a significant amount of physical conditioning Carl stood on the summit of this great Colorado 14er A passion to climb mountains was born In the summer of 2009 Carl put work on the backburner to focus on mountain climbing Ten mountains were selected He had two primary goals for the Summer of Climbing first to summit each mountain Second to look for the defining moment of each climb and then to develop life lessons around the defining moments The Result is Reaching New Heights A Summer of Climbing Join Carl as he climbs Experience the thrill pain and sense of accomplishment as he works his way to the summit Then spend time in reflecting on the defining moments and the lessons he learned His life was changed writing this book As you journey with him through his Summer of Climbing his prayer is that you will be blessed enriched and challenged

Climbing California's Fourteeners Toby Evans, 2021-09-01 From the southernmost peak of Mt Langley to Mt Shasta in the north California's fifteen peaks of 14 000 feet or more are some of the most challenging and beautiful mountains in the country Over the past decade the rise of endurance activities including obstacle racing and the popularity of reality television have increased the popularity of these daunting climbs California's Fourteeners have been featured on The Amazing Race Man vs Wild and Django Unchained No matter the skill level this book will lay out the plans and logistics to allow every climber a positive experience Each of the mountains will be broken down based on the technical skills needed a recommended list of gear and equipment how to prepare for rapidly changing weather and trail conditions and a general timeframe needed to reach each summit Mountains in My Heart Gerlinde Kaltenbrunner,2014-05-21 First woman and only the fourth climber ever to summit all fourteen 8 000 meter peaks without supplemental oxygen or high altitude porters Though the two climbers are friends Kaltenbrunner's path to high places has been very different from Edurne Pasaban's record breaking feat Positive uplifting account of a remarkable athlete Effusive charismatic tough Gerlinde Kaltenbrunner is one of the world's most successful high altitude mountaineers and the first woman to climb all fourteen 8 000 meter peaks without supplemental oxygen and she also eschews high altitude porters Mountains in My Heart covers her early years learning to climb in Austria her personal life her training as an oncology nurse and her ever present passion for mountains especially the Himalaya Her love of being in the mountains shines through in her writing For Gerlinde the important thing was not the race to be the first woman to climb the 8 000 meter peaks but rather to experience the mountains and climb them in her self sufficient style Self sufficiency did not however mean climbing without her husband Ralf Dujmovits in 2009 Lhotse became her twelfth and his fourteenth 8 000 meter peak Kaltenbrunner shares the challenges dangers and euphoria of her high altitude climbs detailing medical emergencies and her own feelings about being high in the mountains Her writing is honest captivating and unrestrained Climbing the Mountains God Puts in Our Paths

Lauren D. Girdwood,2016-05-03 Have you ever wanted God to guide as you face daunting issues and your faith is tested wondered how to cope with sudden setbacks that take the wind out of life tried to find direction when starting over after a major loss or change searched for answers when life's tragedies leave you winded and speechless struggled when the ruts of life overwhelm you hoped to gain a new healthier perspective on handling the challenges life brings looked up from one of those valleys in life and catch a glimpse of that broader loftier perspective that God sees Join minister Larry Girdwood to explore mountains faced by the men and women in the Bible and to see how they rose to the challenge Walk with Abraham Elijah Noah Jesus the Shunammite woman Israelites Peter James and John and others as they climb out of valleys to gain a higher level vista broadening view Climbing Mountains in Heaven Mark Steven Macaluso,2006-06-01 An autobiography of events and experiences tells a great deal about what has happened to us But does it really reveal who we are I think not These events are the circumstances of our life and often give birth to labels by which others think they know us As Yale Law Professor Stephen Carter so eloquently put it To be black and an intellectual in America is to live in a box So I live in a box not of my own making and on the box is a label not of my own choosing Most of those who have not met me and many of those who have see the box and read the label and imagine that they have seen me The box is formed by the assumptions others make when they learn that I am black and a label is available for every occasion The reality is that being black and being named Muhammad Abdullah gives birth to labels that become more than boxes in which I am placed they have become glasses through which others attempt to see and judge who I am Worse for a large portion of my life they were the glasses through which I saw myself These glasses were akin to attempting to see myself as one tries to see the bride behind and beneath the veil This book removes the veil It is an autobiography of my inner life of my ideas Reflections in the Key of Life is like a song a song of my soul It is my composition and like my favorite music form jazz it will often appear to stray from the melody But even in the midst of the straying a gem is discovered then another and yet another and just as you find yourself becoming interested in gems and collecting all you can gather you find yourself back at the melody and the gems like bread crumbs have led you there back to where you began As T S Elliot put it And the end of all explorations is to return to that place where you began and know it for the first time
