Cornrowing Mamas Hair On A Sunday:

Jayd's Legacy L. Divine, 2007 Jayd Jackson happily in a relationship with the coolest white boy ever deals with her ex boyfriend who is trying to break them up and her best friend Nellie who is causing all sorts of drama as she runs for junior class homecoming Princess against the Athletes and Cheerleaders Original Seen & Not Heard Samantha Griffiths, 2001

The Coretta Scott King Awards, 1970-2009 Henrietta M. Smith, 2009-06-29 Gathers together the best African American children's literature The Embodied Child Roxanne Harde, Lydia Kokkola, 2017-09-11 The Embodied Child Readings in Children's Literature and Culture brings together essays that offer compelling analyses of children's bodies as they read and are read as they interact with literature and other cultural artifacts and as they are constructed in literature and popular culture The chapters examine the ideology behind the cultural constructions of the child's body and the impact they have on society and how the child's body becomes a carrier of cultural ideology within the cultural imagination They also consider the portrayal of children's bodies in terms of the seeming dichotomies between healthy vs unhealthy bodies as well as able bodied vs disabled and examines flesh and blood bodies that engage with literary texts and other media The contributors bring perspectives from anthropology communication education literary criticism cultural studies philosophy physical education and religious studies With wide and astute coverage of disparate literary and cultural texts and lively scholarly discussions in the introductions to the collection and to each section this book makes a long needed contribution to discussions of the body and the child Stylin' Shane White, Graham White, 2018-10-18 For over two centuries in the North as well as the South both within their own community and in the public arena African Americans have presented their bodies in culturally distinctive ways Shane White and Graham White consider the deeper significance of the ways in which African Americans have dressed walked danced arranged their hair and communicated in silent gestures They ask what elaborate hair styles bright colors bandanas long watch chains and zoot suits for example have really meant and discuss style itself as an expression of deep seated cultural imperatives Their wide ranging exploration of black style from its African origins to the 1940s reveals a culture that differed from that of the dominant racial group in ways that were often subtle and elusive A wealth of black and white illustrations show the range of African American experience in America emanating from all parts of the country from cities and farms from slave plantations and Chicago beauty contests White and White argue that the politics of black style is in fact the politics of metaphor always ambiguous because it is always indirect To tease out these ambiguities they examine extensive sources including advertisements for runaway slaves interviews recorded with surviving ex slaves in the 1930s autobiographies travelers accounts photographs paintings prints newspapers and images drawn from popular culture such as the stereotypes of Jim Crow and Zip Coon Black Authors James Edward Newby, 1991 Call and Response Gothataone Moeng, 2024-02-06 Richly drawn stories about the lives of ordinary families in contemporary Botswana as they navigate relationships tradition and caretaking in a rapidly changing world A young widow adheres to the expectations of wearing mourning clothes for nearly a year though she's unsure what the traditions mean or whether she is ready to meet the world without their protection An older sister returns home from a confusing time in America only to explain at every turn why she's left the land of opportunity A younger sister hides her sexual exploits from her family while her older brother openly flaunts his infidelity The stories collected in Call and Response are strongly anchored in place in the village of Serowe where the author is from and in Gaborone the capital city of Botswana charting the emotional journeys of women seeking love and opportunity beyond the barriers of custom and circumstance Gothataone Moeng is part of a new generation of writers coming out of Africa whose voices are ready to explode onto the literary scene In the tradition of writers like Chimamanda Adichie and Jhumpa Lahiri she offers us insight into communities experiences and landscapes through stories that are cinematic in their sweep with unforgettable female protagonists Drama High: So, So Hood L.

Divine, 2011-01-28 For Jayd Jackson a new school takes the drama to a new level With her senior year just beginning Jayd's drama is going nowhere anytime soon Although she's graduated to the next level with her powers she's also going head to head with her former best friend Misty Jayd's also got to deal with the aftermath of the debutante ball her boyfriend's cheating and her ex boyfriend best guy friend Rah's continuing baby mama drama Luckily when her crew gets to be too much Jayd can turn to her new crush Keenan a UCLA first draft football pick for a time out Jayd's got to keep a cool head now more than ever because there's a new enemy waiting to pounce if she lets down her guard Wash Day with Mama Monica Mikai, 2025-01-14 This stunning picture book takes a joyful look into the loving and long process of a hair wash day and the beautiful bond between a daughter and mother Perfect for Mother's Day or all year round I love Sundays because Sundays are wash days And wash days are just for us Filled with heartwarming illustrations Wash Day with Mama centers on a little girl cherishing each step of their hair washing routine while Mama imparts her wisdom and stresses the importance of self care loving yourself and being proud of who you are The process of washing and taking care of Black hair takes time and effort but this poignant story shows how it is an act of self love and nurtures a special connection between mother and daughter For the Black community washing their hair can feel like an event in and of itself and that's why it has been christened wash day For many wash day isn't just a routine but an intimate ritual that is a symbol of self love and pride This self care practice although individual to the person can root them in their culture and allow them to embrace generations of hair traditions This book shows the love and care of washing Black hair and compels us to reflect on shared moments that we may take for granted The Crunk Feminist Collection Brittney C. Cooper, Susana M. Morris, Robin M.

Boylorn, 2016-12-19 Essays on hip hop feminism featuring relevant real conversations about how race and gender politics intersect with pop culture and current events For the Crunk Feminist Collective their academic day jobs were lacking in conversations they actually wanted To address this void they started a blog that turned into a widespread movement The Collective's writings foster dialogue about activist methods intersectionality and sisterhood And the writers personal
