Coming To Writing And Other Essays Coming To Writing And Other Essays:

Scenes of the Apple Tamar Heller, Patricia Moran, 2012-02-01 Focusing on women's writing of the last two centuries Scenes of the Apple traces the intricate relationship between food and body image for women. Ranging over a variety of genres including novels, culinary memoirs, and essays, the contributors explore works by a diverse group of writers including Mary Elizabeth Braddon, Toni Morrison, Tsitsi Dangaremba, and Jeanette Winterson, as well as such nonliterary documents as discussions of Queen Victoria's appetite and news coverage of suffragettes' hunger strikes. Moreover, in addressing works by Hispanic, African, African American, Jewish, and lesbian writers, the book explodes the myth that only white, privileged, and heterosexual women are concerned with body image and shows the many cultural contexts in which food and cooking are important in women's literature. Above all, the essays pay tribute to the rich and multiple meanings of food in women's writing as a symbol for all kinds of delightful and transgressive desires.

Manna Hélène Cixous, 2000-12-01 A prose poem on two married couples involved in the revolutionary struggle. One is Nelson and Willie Mandella of South Africa; the other, Russian poet Osip Mandelstam and his wife Nadezhda. In drawing parallels, the author stresses the contribution of the wives.

Writing with Deleuze in the Academy Stewart Riddle, David Bright, Eileen Honan, 2018-09-25 In this book, authors working with Deleuzian theories in educational research in Australia and the United Kingdom grapple with how the academic writing machine might become less contained and bounded and instead be used to free impulses to generate different creations and connections. The authors experiment with forms of writing that challenge the boundaries of academic language, moving beyond the strictures of the scientific method that governs and controls what works and what counts to make language vibrate with a new intensity. The authors construct monstrous creations full of vitality and fervor, hybrid texts, part academic, part creative assemblages, almost but perhaps not quite recognisable as research. Stories that blur the lines between true and untrue, representation and invention. The contributors to this book hope that something might happen in its reading that some new connections might be made but also acknowledge the contingency of the encounter between text and reader and the impossibility of presuming to know what may be.

Writing Academic Texts Differently Nina Lykke, 2014-06-27 This edited volume combines cutting-edge research on feminist and intersectional writing methodologies with explorations of links between academic and creative writing practices. Contributors discuss what it means for academic writing processes to explore intersectionality in between spaces between monolithic identity markers and power differentials such as gender, race, ethnicity, class, sexuality, and nationality. How does such a frame change academic writing? How does it make it pertinent to explore new synergies between academic and creative writing? In answer to these questions, the book offers theories, methodologies, political and ethical considerations, as well as reflections on writing strategies. Suggestions for writing exercises developed against the background of the contributors' individual and joint teaching practices will inspire readers to engage in alternative writing practices themselves.

Critical Writing for Embodied Approaches Elizabeth

Mackinlay,2019-02-21 Autoethnography is a unique discipline which steps inside and outside the self to experience embody and express social and cultural meaning At once a performative political and poetic genre of research writing it holds the potential to uncover the heart of the world if only for a moment The author uses theory as story and story as theory to explore her place in the world through painstaking and intimate self and social narratives to lay bare the unique challenges and rewards of autoethnography Framed around the metaphor of heartlines the author explores autoethnographic practice as critical feminist and decolonial work and the power it holds for not only imagining a wise ethical and loving world but for making such a kind place possible Through a performative journey of the heart we travel with the author as she unearths the power of words of writing and not writing evoking in particular the work of H l ne Cixous and Virginia Woolf This reflective passionate and pioneering volume will be of interest and value to all those interested in autoethnography and the ways in which it can be applied as critical ethical and political work in the social sciences Helene Cixous Susan

Sellers,2013-06-10 This book is a clear and accessible introduction to the writings of Helene Cixous novelist dramatist and critic whose work has had a major impact on feminist theory and practice Susan Sellers a major scholar on Cixous provides a lucid account of Cixous s theoretical position and in particular her distinctive theory of an critique f minine She discusses the development of Cixous s literary oeuvre in the context of this theory and analyses a selection of the works in detail to illustrate the different stages in Cixous s writing career Focusing on the key novels and plays Sellers explores a range of issues and themes central to her work the correlation between the death of Cixous s own father and her coming into being as a writer the psychological process of separation and individuation and the creation of a female authorial self the discovery of the other and the dramatization of love the delineation depiction of an alternative form of relationship between self and other which would have a significance in a wider sphere than that of the merely personal This much needed book will be welcomed by students in literature and literary theory feminism and women s studies English and French studies and philosophy

Disjointed Perspectives on Motherhood Catalina Florina Florescu,2013-10-29 Disjointed Perspectives on Motherhood presents the accounts of mothers who have suffered a major physical and or psychically traumatic accident and as a consequence their minds and bodies have been drastically changed They live under the pressure of having discovered the alter ego of their traumatized personality and now distressed cannot embrace their unconditional maternal love Instead they enter into a phase where they face the challenge of revealing who they are as persons before accepting or motivating themselves as mothers The mothers presented in this volume also seem to have another thing in common their transnational fluid female identity as they enter into an imaginary dialog that transcends geographical and temporal perspectives on womanhood and motherhood This collection introduces and analyzes recurrent words that define a woman s body and mind today fear competition motherhood and career rights selfishness ambition destruction distance and identity By using unprecedented comparative critical approaches such as phenomenological medical feminist and re enchantinent theories and by analyzing works from literature cinema and visual arts this collection attempts to reestablish and redefine a canonical concept with the intention to revitalize an otherwise taken for granted image and role French Feminists on Religion Morny Joy, Kathleen O'Grady, Judith L. Poxon, 2002 French Feminists on Religion A Reader offers the first representative selection of important writings by French feminist thinkers on the topic of religion including the most influential and provocative texts on the subject from Luce Irigaray Julia Kristeva Hélène Cixous Monique Wittig and Catherine Clément Each thinker is introduced by a bibliographical preface while individual essays are preceded by an editorial commentary explaining the context and significance of each piece for the study of religion The collected texts cover a broad range of religious practices and discourses focusing primarily on Jewish and Christian concerns but including elements of ancient Goddess traditions Witchcraft Hinduism and Buddhism Critically examined themes include Jewish and Christian notions of sin defilement purity and redemption the relationship between subjectivity and divinity as conceived in the feminine the feminist reimagining of the Virgin Mary and of Catholic theologies of love the repression of the maternal in Judeo Christian culture Brought together for the first time in French Feminist on Religion A Reader these essays demonstrate the central importance of French feminism for the study of religion and at the same time make evident the significance of religious themes figures and concepts to the world of French feminists
