Great Britain and Ireland, Passed in the ... [1807-69]. Great Britain, 1828 Journals of the House of Commons of the Kingdom of Ireland Ireland. Parliament. House of Commons, 1774 Advertising and Consumer Culture in Ireland,

1922-1962 Stephanie Rains, 2022-08-13 This book explores advertising and consumer culture as key aspects of everyday life and national culture in twentieth century Ireland It makes a particular argument that the presence of anti materialist rhetoric in some parts of Irish public life after Independence has obscured the existence of a lively consumer culture throughout the period as evident in the many advertisements which supported Irish newspapers and magazines the jingles broadcast on Irish radio and the neon advertising signs and billboards on Irish streets The book focuses on the development of the advertising industry itself and the sophisticated ways in which it worked to associate consumption with national pride It also considers the advertising of Irish homes and home appliances as an important focus of consumption and the targeting of Irish women as the principal consumers in those homes as well as publicity stunts and advertising in public space and the form and style of commercial broadcasting and sponsored programming from the earliest days of Irish radio It finishes with an examination of the opposite extremes of consumer abundance displayed in the annual Christmas advertising as opposed to the consumer culture response to shortages during World War Two
