Crossing Boundaries Comparative History Of Black People In Diaspora:

Crossing Boundaries Darlene Clark Hine, Jacqueline McLeod, 1999 The essays assembled in Crossing Boundaries reflect the international dimensions commonalities and discontinuities in the histories of diasporan communities of colour People of African descent in the New World the United States Latin America and the Caribbean share a common set of experiences domination and resistance slavery and emancipation the pursuit of freedom and struggle against racism No unitary explanation can capture the varied experiences of black people in diaspora Knowledge of individual societies is illuminated by the study and comparison of other cultural histories This volume growing out of the Comparative History of Black People in Diaspora Symposium held at Michigan State University elaborates the profound relationship between curriculum and pedagogy Crossing Boundaries embraces the challenge to probe differences embedded in Black ethnicities and helps to discover and to weave into a new understanding the threads of experience culture and identity across diasporas Contributors include Thomas Holt George Fredrickson Jack P Green David Barry Gaspar Earl Lewis Elliott Skinner Frederick Cooper Allison Blakely Kim Butler and Rosalyn Terborg Penn

Crossing Boundaries Darlene Clark Hine, Jacqueline McLeod, 1999
America I AM Black Facts Quintard Taylor, 2009-02-02 Time is the great equalizer No person race culture or nation stands beyond its reach or can alter its inevitable progress Timelines lists of events in chronological order as they happened allow us to understand the historical past as the evolution of events and eras In the case of African American history which has often been subject to blatant and subtle distortion a timeline can both set the record straight and expand our knowledge in new and exciting ways America I AM Black Facts a companion volume to the four year touring museum exhibition America I AM The African American Imprint created by Tavis Smiley offers an introduction to the rich complex tragic and triumphal history of the forty million people of African descent over five centuries in what is now the United States This fascinating volume features six timelines that chronicle the indelible imprint African Americans have made on the life history and culture of the United States and the world

A Companion to African American History Alton Hornsby, Jr., 2008-04-15 A Companion to African American History is a collection of original and authoritative essays arranged thematically and topically covering a wide range of subjects from the seventeenth century to the present day Analyzes the major sources and the most influential books and articles in the field Includes discussions of globalization region migration gender class and social forces that make up the broad cultural fabric of African American history

Diasporic Africa Michael A. Gomez, 2006 Diasporic Africa presents the most recent research on the history and experiences of people of African descent outside of the African continent By incorporating Europe and North Africa as well as North America Latin America and the Caribbean this reader shifts the discourse on the African diaspora away from its focus solely on the Americas underscoring the fact that much of the movement of people of African descent took place in Old World contexts This broader view allows for a more comprehensive approach to the study of the African diaspora The volume provides an overview of African diaspora studies and features as a major concern a rigorous interrogation of identity Other primary themes include contributions to western civilization from religion music and sports to agricultural production and medicine as well as the way in which our understanding of the African diaspora fits into larger studies of transnational phenomena The Harvard Guide to African-American History Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2001 This massive guide sponsored by the W E B Du Bois Institute for Afro American Research at Harvard University and compiled by renowned experts offers a compendium of information and interpretation on over 500 years of black experience in America Sacred Spaces and Religious Traditions in Oriente Cuba Jualynne E. Dodson, José Millet Batista, 2008-10-16 Dodson examines the history of traditional religious practices in the Oriente region of contemporary Cuba Decoloniality in the Break of Global Blackness Michaeline A. Crichlow, Patricia M. Northover, 2025-05-21 This book contextualized by the violence of globalization investigates the fungible fugitive and untenable experiences of Black being and time through a decolonial poethics of global Blackness In so doing it introduces innovative readings of coloniality decoloniality by threading its meaning and movement through the problem of Blackness It argues that global Blackness is the complexly entangled other side of decoloniality as movement method and poethics for radical new worlds The essays explore this through inter transdisciplinary creative and decolonial standpoints whether from prison abolitionist demands to Afrofuturist imaginaries or by seeing through Black mirrors It emphasizes the paradoxical characteristics of global Blackness its spectral quality of being in and out of modernity s self narrative to provide a way of dwelling with global Blackness as a force that is neither properly constituted by corporeality nor thinkable in ontological terms determined by modern power The book will be of interest to academics researchers and students in the fields of social sciences cultural studies postcolonial studies as well as cultural practitioners art educators artists cultural activists and those institutions that seek to decolonize imaginaries thought practices and methods Given its diverse offerings it will also be of interest to upper level undergraduates graduate students and academics Ties That Bind Tiya Miles, 2015-06-23 This beautifully written book now in its second edition tells the haunting saga of a quintessentially American family In the late 1790s Shoe Boots a famed Cherokee warrior and successful farmer acquired an African slave named Doll Over the next thirty years Shoe Boots and Doll lived together as master and slave and also as lifelong partners who with their children and grandchildren experienced key events in American history including slavery the Creek War the founding of the Cherokee Nation and subsequent removal of Native Americans along the Trail of Tears and the Civil War This is the gripping story of their lives in slavery and in freedom Meticulously crafted from historical and literary sources Ties That Bind vividly portrays the members of the Shoeboots family Doll emerges as an especially poignant character whose life is mostly known through the records of things done to her her purchase her marriage the loss of her children but also through her moving petition to the federal government for the pension owed to her as Shoe Boots s widow A sensitive rendition of the hard realities of black slavery within Native American nations the book provides the fullest picture we have of the myriad complexities ironies and tensions among African Americans Native Americans and whites in the first half of the nineteenth century Updated with a new preface and an appendix of key primary sources this remains an essential book for students of Native American history African American history and the history of race and ethnicity in the United States Visions of Zion Erin C.

MacLeod, 2014-07-04 In reggae song after reggae song Bob Marley and other reggae singers speak of the Promised Land of Ethiopia Repatriation is a must they cry The Rastafari have been travelling to Ethiopia since the movement originated in Jamaica in 1930s They consider it the Promised Land and repatriation is a cornerstone of their faith Though Ethiopians see Rastafari as immigrants the Rastafari see themselves as returning members of the Ethiopian diaspora In Visions of Zion Erin C MacLeod offers the first in depth investigation into how Ethiopians perceive Rastafari and Rastafarians within Ethiopia and the role this unique immigrant community plays within Ethiopian society Rastafari are unusual among migrants basing their movements on spiritual rather than economic choices This volume offers those who study the movement a broader understanding of the implications of repatriation Taking the Ethiopian perspective into account it argues that migrant and diaspora identities are the products of negotiation and it illuminates the implications of this negotiation for concepts of citizenship as well as for our understandings of pan Africanism and south south migration Providing a rare look at migration to a non Western country this volume also fills a gap in the broader immigration studies literature
