State of Human Rights in Pakistan ,2004 Religious Offences in Common Law Asia Li-ann Thio, Jaclyn L Neo, 2021-02-25 This book provides in depth comparative analysis of how religious penal clauses have been developed and employed within Asian common law states and the impact of such developments on constitutional rights By examining the theoretical and conceptual underpinnings of religious offences as well as interrogating the nature and impact of religious penal clauses within the region it contributes to the broader dialogue in relation to religious penal clauses globally whether in countries which practise forms of secular or religious constitutionalism Asian practice is significant in this respect given the centrality of religion to social life and indeed in some jurisdictions to constitutional or national identity Providing rigorous studies of common law jurisdictions that have adopted similar provisions in their penal code the contributors provide an original examination and analysis of the use and development of these religious clauses in their respective jurisdictions They draw upon their insights into the background sociopolitical and constitutional contexts to consider how the inter relationship of religion and state may determine the rationale and scope of religious offences These country by country chapters inform the conceptual examination of religious views and sentiments as a basis for criminality and the forms of harm that attract legal safeguards Several chapters examine these questions from a historical and comparative perspective considering the underlying bases and scope as well as evolving objectives of these provisions Through these examinations the book critically interrogates the legacy of colonialism on the criminal law and constitutional practice of various Asian states Land of Two Rivers Nitish K. Sengupta, 2011 Land of Two Rivers chronicles the story of one of the most fascinating and influential regions in the Indian subcontinent The confluence of two major river systems Ganga and Brahmaputra created the delta of Bengal an ancient land known as a center of trade learning and the arts from the days of the Mahabharata and through the ancient dynasties During the medieval era this eventful journey saw the rise of Muslim dynasties which brought into being a unique culture quite distinct from that of northern India The colonial conquest in the eighteenth century opened the modern chapter of Bengal's history and transformed the social and economic structure of the region Nitish Sengupta traces the formation of Bengali identity through the Bengal Renaissance the growth of nationalist politics and the complex web of events that eventually led to the partition of the region in 1947 analyzing why despite centuries of shared history and culture the Bengalis finally divided along communal lines The struggle of East Pakistan to free itself from West Pakistan's dominance is vividly described documenting the economic exploitation and cultural oppression of the Bengali people Ultimately under the leadership of Bangabandhu Mujibur Rahman East Pakistan became the independent nation of Bangladesh in 1971 Land of Two Rivers is a scholarly yet extremely accessible account of the development of Bengal sketching the eventful and turbulent history of this ancient civilization rich in scope as well as in influence Ahmadiya Community in Pakistan Surendra Nath Kaushik, 1996 Accessions List, South Asia Library of Congress.
