Crossing Borders Hebrew Manuscripts As A Meeting Place Of Cultures:

Crossing Borders Piet van Boxel, Sabine Arndt, 2009 Crossing Borders tells the intriguing but largely unfamiliar story of the exchange of culture and knowledge between Jews and non Jews in the Muslim and Christian worlds during the late Middle Ages as part of the preparation of Hebrew manuscripts The book is composed of ten narratives each of which brings to light a different aspect of Jewish life in a non Jewish medieval society highlighting the practical cooperation social interaction and religious toleration that was surprisingly common between the groups involved in the early enterprise of book production Alongside the narratives Crossing Borders is beautifully illustrated with images from the Hebrew holdings at the Bodleian Library one of the largest and most important collections of Hebrew manuscripts worldwide The art includes Christian codex fragments from the third century a copy of Moses Maimonides Mishneh Torah signed by Maimonides himself a thirteenth century German Jewish prayer book and lavishly illuminated Spanish Bible manuscripts from the fifteenth century This exquisitely illustrated book takes a fascinating look at the often ignored role of Jews in the written transmission of culture and science throughout medieval Europe Amazon website viewed June 19 2013 Jewish Manuscript Cultures

Irina Wandrey, 2017-12-18 Hebrew manuscripts are considered to be invaluable documents and artefacts of Jewish culture and history Research on Hebrew manuscript culture is progressing rapidly and therefore its topics methods and questions need to be enunciated and reflected upon The case studies assembled in this volume explore various fields of research on Hebrew manuscripts They show paradigmatically the current developments concerning codicology and palaeography book forms like the scroll and codex scribes and their writing material patrons collectors and censors manuscript and book collections illuminations and fragments and last but not least new methods of material analysis applied to manuscripts The principal focus of this volume is the material and intellectual history of Hebrew book cultures from antiquity to the Middle Ages and Early Modern Period its intention being to heighten and sharpen the reader's understanding of Jewish social and cultural history in general

Visual Aspects of Scribal Culture in Ashkenaz Ingrid M. Kaufmann, 2019-09-02 The medieval Ashkenazi manuscripts of the Small Book of Commandments Sefer Mitzvot Katan or SeMaK for short which was written by Isaac of Corbeil attest a scribal culture in which rabbinical knowledge and piety were combined with creative freedom in manuscript design This study is concerned with the creation composition and circulation of manuscripts of the SeMaK and concentrates on the book as an artefact The focus of the author's attention is the manuscripts material nature their artistic embellishment and the personal touches that scribes added to them With the act of writing a text and decorating a SeMaK manuscript they appropriated the text so to speak giving it a character of its very own They drew on a visual language in the process or rather on visual languages which occupy a special place between pure writing culture and pure painting culture It was in this area in between the two that spontaneous touches arose ranging from changes in the physical arrangement of the text mise en page to drawings and doodles added in the margins An examination of paratextual elements broadens the reader's knowledge about Jewish scribal culture and grants insights into medieval book art material culture and Judeo-Christian co-existence in the Middle Ages as well as throwing some light on Jewish values, ideals and eschatological hopes

A History of the Bible John Barton, 2020-08-04 A literary history of our most influential book of all time by an Oxford scholar and Anglican priest. In our culture the Bible is monolithic. It is a collection of books that has been unchanged and unchallenged since the earliest days of the Christian church. The idea of the Bible as Holy Scripture, a non-negotiable authority straight from God, has prevailed in Western society for some time. And while it provides a firm foundation for centuries of Christian teaching, it denies the depth, variety and richness of this fascinating text. In A History of the Bible, John Barton argues that the Bible is not a prescription to a complete, fixed religious system, but rather a product of a long and intriguing process which has inspired Judaism and Christianity, but still does not describe the whole of either religion. Barton shows how the Bible is indeed an important source of religious insight for Jews and Christians alike, yet argues that it must be read in its historical context, from its beginnings in myth and folklore to its many interpretations throughout the centuries. It is a book full of narratives, laws, proverbs, prophecies, poems and letters, each with their own character and origin stories. Barton explains how and by whom these disparate pieces were written, how they were canonized and which ones weren't, and how they were assembled, disseminated and interpreted around the world, and importantly, to what effect. Ultimately, A History of the Bible argues that a thorough understanding of the history and context of its writing encourages religious communities to move away from the Bible's literal wording, which is impossible to determine, and focus instead on the broader meanings of scripture.

The Oxford Handbook of Jewish Music Studies Tina Frühauf, 2023 The Oxford Handbook of Jewish Music Studies is the most comprehensive and expansive critical handbook of Jewish music published to date. The chapters form a first truly global look at Jewish music, including studies from Central and East Asia, Europe, Australia, the Americas and the Arab world. The Handbook provides a resource that researchers, scholars and educators will use as the most important and authoritative overview of work within music and Jewish studies.

Contesting Inter-Religious Conversion in the Medieval World Yosi Yisraeli, Yaniv Fox, 2016-12-08 The Mediterranean and its hinterlands were the scene of intensive and transformative contact between cultures in the Middle Ages. From the seventh to the seventeenth century, the three civilizations into which the region came to be divided geographically, the Islamic Khalifate, the Byzantine Empire and the Latin West, were busily redefining themselves vis-à-vis one another. Interspersed throughout the region were communities of minorities such as Christians in Muslim lands, Muslims in Christian lands, heterodoxical sects, pagans and, of course, Jews. One of the most potent vectors of interaction and influence between these communities in the medieval world was inter-religious conversion, the process whereby groups or individuals formally embraced a new religion. The chapters of this book explore this dynamic: what did it mean to convert to Christianity in seventh-century Ireland? What did it mean to embrace Islam in tenth-century Egypt? Are the two phenomena comparable on a social, cultural and legal level? The chapters of the book also ask what we are able to learn from our sources which at times provide a very culturally charged and specific conversion rhetoric Taken as a whole the compositions in this volume set out to argue that inter religious conversion was a process that was recognizable and comparable throughout its geographical and chronological purview A Journey of Two Psalms Susan Gillingham,2013-11 Psalms 1 and 2 serve as a Prologue to the rest of the Psalter Susan Gillingham takes us on an illuminating journey across two and a half millennia revealing how these two psalms have been commented on translated painted set to music employed in worship and adapted in literature often being used disputatiously by Jews and Christians alike Philo of Alexandria: an Annotated Bibliography 2007-2016 David T. Runia,2021-11-08 This volume is a further continuation of the annotated bibliographies on the writings and thought of the Jewish exegete and philosopher Philo of Alexandria following those on the years 1937 1986 published in 1988 1987 1996 published in 2000 and 1997 2012 published in 2012 Prepared in collaboration with the International Philo Bibliography Project it contains a complete listing of all scholarly writings on Philo for the period 2007 to 2016 Part One lists texts translations commentaries etc 75 items Part Two contains critical studies 1143 items In Part Three additional items up to 2006 are presented 27 items In all cases a summary of the contents of the contribution is given Six indices including a detailed Index of subjects complete the work The European Book in the Twelfth Century Erik Kwakkel,Rodney Thomson,2018-07-26 The first comprehensive study of the European book in the historical period known as the long twelfth century 1075 1225 Perspectives on Early Islamic Art in Jerusalem Lawrence Nees,2015-09-17 Through its material remains Perspectives on Early Islamic Art in Jerusalem analyzes several overlooked aspects of the earliest decades of Islamic presence in Jerusalem during the seventh century CE Focusing on the Haram al Sharif also known as the Temple Mount Lawrence Nees provides the first sustained study of the Dome of the Chain a remarkable eleven sided building standing beside the slightly later Dome of the Rock and the first study of the meaning of the columns and column capitals with figures of eagles in the Dome of the Rock He also provides a new interpretation of the earliest mosque in Jerusalem the Haram as a whole with the sacred Rock at its center
